2013: Stepping through the Gateway of LIGHT

January 11, 2013

The Shift just gets more and more brilliant, doesn't it? The brilliance of Mastering one reality while another dies off – I absolutely love it. Think of our experience here, Masters. Why in this realm would we create something as dull as make it clear to everyone on the planet that something huge has occurred to begin this fantastical journey of merging with all that we are? It is brilliant to have no drama during the initial week of 2013, because it challenges our Mastery of choices, wisdom, beliefs and fortitude.

With the veils gone, we now have the opportunity to fine-tune our perception and capabilities to abolish all illusionary nonsense. January may get intense energetically, and it certainly proposes some thrills and chills to those walking between worlds, but we are receiving many days to adjust, rest, integrate and decide what our experience will encompass. Brilliant, and I appreciate the self-imposed downtime while so many are clutching at what to do next.

Your choices are still the same

5D Ascension began on the 121212 when Gaia fully ascended and created the platform for us to experience her as a 5D planet. Choices currently available include:

- 4D self gets to experience transcendence to 5D if you choose this process; a full merge with your higher expression where you dwell upon 5D Gaia. The Ascension gateway is open for easy access until the March equinox, then ongoing for as long as the 4D New Paradigm is operating. Look into the physics behind what is occurring here if you think a 5D ascension is a metaphysical cult delusion.
- Currently the Ascended ones get to walk between (ask anyone experiencing eyes open 4D/eyes closed 5D) and embody the 5D Christed Self/Mastery level right here in 4D. You can embody this state of consciousness and create miracles, healing and truly empower others. It also makes for a logical progression to 5D ascension, and is much easier on the body vehicle.

- Star folks and other consciousness who are playing different roles for HUmanity get to step out of the body whenever their work is done. Some appear and disappear at will, some die in a body as voluntary victims, some don't realize who they are and unconsciously kill the body with beliefs, some get crushed by the illusion. No judgment on failed missions, all is successful engagement, all is well.
- Unifying all of one's expressions with open communication and clarity through your 4D expression (open conduit) is available depending on your journey, capabilities and choices.

Pure intention to serve opens up all Ascension possibilities.

4D is wild, isn't it?

We have been training ourselves (literally in most cases) to perceive the highest truth we were prepared to experience. No judgment on where you are on your path; your choices are your choices and they can be changed at any point you desire. Open up, the unknown is way more interesting than the familiar in my perspective.

4D is what we used to call dreamstate, and we're beginning to experience that mid 4D blend of waking and dreaming. Eventually dreams and hours of sleep will not be needed. The life review in dreamstate we had during Dec 21- 25 sent Ascending ones onto the next level, and oh how bizarre and fascinating it is! Dreams become an interactive training ground for multidimensionality. Star family and new-to-me hybrid races are showing up in dreams, and we're having the conversations I had hoped for last Summer. Getting reacquainted with everyone during these visits feels warm and loving, and a bit like catching up with family during the holidays. The parallels between worlds are clear – and now we know why.

Realize there is little difference between dream and awake states for Ascending folks. Create more of what you desire in your awakened state, and watch your dreams change. You are communicating directly as one consciousness; unified with all of yourself. As your perception changes to interpret reality properly, the focus of your consciousness can be attuned quickly with minimal effort. Try it, use the Zero Point dynamics to your advantage, Masters. The collective dream has seemed like a movie for Ascending ones for a while; now we learn how to change it. The more conscious dreamers we have creating the new in the awake state, the faster the collective dream will Shift.

The illusion is running on an iron lung at the moment. It can survive for only so long; appreciate that the collective is giving us this challenge. People who are numb to their own consciousness will not sense the Shift. The question is, when will your judgment of them change? Judgment includes frustration with others, the need to save people or to suffer on their behalf.

Detached compassion is the New Paradigm; be sure to apply this to yourSELF as the old self dissolves. Judgment, righteousness and vengeful payback scenarios are part of the old paradigm, and it is gone. Unplug the life support on the departed; the new arrival needs your attention.

As I said last year, I love that it is up to HUmanity now to break through the illusions and empower ourselves to ascend our consciousness or step out of the game. Masters, angelics, and channel entities are stepping back to let HUmanity do our thing. We all agreed: I AM an Ascended Master, a Divine HUman – don't steal my end game from me! I want to break through all that stands between me and my multidimensional divine self. Note that Mastery empowerment comes from within FIRST, then you join the higher realms in co-creating. Creator-In-Carnate side note: An Ascended HUman has way more creative capabilities than an Archangel, Elohim or Yahyel; why do you think we were the obsession of the galaxy for so long? It ain't over til it's over, beloveds. There are miracles beyond any expectation awaiting Fully Ascended HUMans.

Gatekeeper Shifts

The merging of lower dimensions provides Gatekeepers with the ability to walk-between-worlds and engage in hyperspace travel. Be open to receive pre-arranged symbols, codes and metaphors (language of light) encodements which open the combination lock of your sacred stargates within. I see the portal I have been building through 2012 as a big stargate around my sacred heart center. The solar gateway within me, encircled by symbols in gold-crystalline-diamond light, are clicking into place and opening more of the gateways to higher dimensions as I merge with all that I AM.

My Divine Entourage is mySELF. Through the prism of Solaris (the Sun), my divine guides appeared as higher realms, higher entities and energetics labeled as Archangels or Masters or Guides – now I see them as aspects of mySELF, interconnected creations to serve the divine experiment of life in a body on an ascending planet. I know it had to be that way, and the collective agreed to that perception, but Unity consciousness reveals all of this as one big integrated conglomerate. The true nature of Source-in-carnate trumps any kind of deluded hierarchical systems.

To clarify: this doesn't mean I AM all of the beings I have channeled or encountered in the past, but there is a good deal of multidimensional spread through many of these realms. Honestly, it doesn't matter any more – nor does the idea of labeling dimensions or densities – but these will probably be used until folks transition to the new perception. From the center of Source consciousness, I AM.

Seeing other realms is frequent now, and sensing subtler energies is a key to more acute awareness of portals, vortexes and collapse cone energetics; the effects of magnetic balancing and REstructuring. Often the collapse of magnetic fields sounds like a rumble; similar to subtle thunder without the flash. Sometimes you will hear them, other times you might feel these areas like a small vortex or whirl of frequency shifts. I walked into one on a stroll to the lake a few days ago, and my friend felt it too. Like walking into a whirlwind, only it is energy rather than wind. Use the inner meters to sense whether these moments of vertigo, spin or shifts are there for your attention or balancing the elementals. Here in Shasta I AM experiencing a lot of interaction between dimensions, but sometimes the whirl is just magnetics.

My Ascended (5D) self is experiencing consistent zero-point-divinity and a lot of deep healing (hence my sleepiness since the 121212). It is also beautiful to share this new world at last; I was unable to interact with other HUmans in the past on the 5D expression of Gaia.

Building bridges: Gatekeepers are creating portals and stargates for others to access. It begins within and is then manifest in both worlds, bridging them for access. While the veils are at their thinnest, we may show those who are choosing ascension these gateways, but no gatekeeper is allowed to grant or deny access. It is a wildly creative process utilizing deep metaphors, symbols and unique connections (light language codes). We hold these gates open for as long as our journey supports this activity. Martyrs and saviors are an old frequency of judgment, as is any kind of hierarchy. Our roles are our roles, and all is well.

Unification for support is helpful, and I invite those who are aware of their Ascended Mastery, Gatekeeper role, or Planetary Council participation (new one for me) to contact me if you wish to co-create sharing of Light Intel to benefit the collective. Please, no egoic constructs or guessing games (either you know what is up or you take my eCourse, okay?) The veils are gone; naked Emperors need not apply.

5D Ascended HUmans

The physics of a dimensional shift depended on many factors which came into play last month. The Mastery journey includes transformation of the physical – a Creative Evolution of form and consciousness. The beautiful part of Ascending one's frequency is embracing the truth of love. The truth of the hows and whys are changing, but the frequency of light intelligence known as unconditional love will not diminish until Source has completely exhausted the possibilities for this Universe.

We are at the beginning of a great Creator exhale (Inhale receives information and recalibrates for what has been learned; exhale creates with a new intention to explore more of all that is.) The new intention of creation birthing throughout the Universe, which will affect the multiverse, is based on a purer intention. This aligns all that is capable of interpreting pure Source consciousness with that new creation, new truth. And many HUmans carry the encodements to fully experience a higher level of light, expansion and ascension which is beyond any Atlantean technology or ancient off-world archetype. If you've got the goods and are willing to make the leap into ascension, the possibilities are limitless.

Your keys to the new experience are:

- pure intention to serve all that is,
- surrender to the multidimensional self rather than the illusion of identity,
- commitment to merge with the highest aspects of Source that you are.

As we said years ago, the entire Universe is being rewritten, galaxy by galaxy. (all hail science for catching the burst of the bubbles at the galactic center last week, and Suspicious Observers for backing up the absolute diminishment of our magnetosphere and changing solar interaction. Always good to witness science waking up to light intel bit by bit ~ don't expect any nod in our direction, wayshowers. Just keep moving ahead, that's what we are here for.)

No one with a connection to their Ascended 5D and beyond expression has any fear regarding the dissolvment of the old paradigm. It may get challenging to witness the old collapse, and it is fine to feel it as long as it doesn't suck you into the quicksand. Detached compassion is so present in my lifestream that it even applies to me witnessing myself; I watch my own journey from my collective consciousness, making choices based on the highest good of all. My lower levels have been trained well, and I AM grateful to experience this bizarre – yet normal – state of transcendence. All is well, even when people, places, situations, things are falling apart.

I wish everyone a good shattering of what was this month. The Sirians said it would be a rough initiation into 2013, but I feel prepared with neutrality, love and enthusiasm for any challenge. Flow and presence are normal states of beingness which allow new ideas, lessons and connections to be integrated at light speed. Fly when you can, ground when you need to. Your progress to being a pure conduit is unique.

eCourse folks: Choosing the Merge

If you choose to merge with your Ascended 5D/6D self (first wave since the 121212), be sure to consciously purify the body vehicle and expand as often as possible. You should be seeing very bright light during meditation or even a casual closing of the eyes. The Sacred Heart center activated on the 121212 may feel warm or like an intense light source (because it is.) Golden light may be more common, be sure to command it forth. Solar key codes may present in meditation; symbols of the Solar cross and solar vortexes have been very present for me this week.

Pineal activations of the 4th eye/Gods eye/All seeing eye are stepping up this month. Spots of light may emerge in your field of vision, both eyes open or closed, like a sunspot. Program crystals and water to support these amplifications. Continue the epsom baths to balance and clear excess energies.

Play with your intuitive healing abilities and higher senses as they intensify. When you begin to perceive portals and gateways in the physical (eyes open), breathe and relax into what they have to show you. Note any trepidation or thoughts that present, and clear what doesn't fit your journey. A Mastery level video will be added to the eCourse next week, and I will share an excerpt on youtube.

Thank you for BEing here, beloveds, and Happy NOW Year!

I AM in love with everyone and this remarkably creative Shift we are experiencing. Blessings to all of us, no matter what part of the path you are on.

Another Amplification Marker - Use It Well

January 15, 2013

Tuesday January 15 marks another acceleration in the Shift. Light-ground and anchor solid intentions for your process today, right now. These triggers are very powerful now that we are in Zero Point; you get even more of what you command from the Universe. If you are unaware of your lifestream's flow, use the So it is after every thought or statement to show you what you are creating every moment.

With instant manifestation comes responsibility

There is no judgment on what you create or un-create; the neutral electromagnetic Universe gives you whatever you demand.

There is wisdom in commanding I AM light, I AM love, I AM harmony, I AM a pure conduit of service to Gaia and HUmanity. Please detach from nonsensical commands such as Nothing is happening, I AM blocked, They are trying to kill us, or Beam me up Scotty. Change these thoughts and statements instantly and effortlessly right here, right now. It is that simple. Collectively, we could all benefit from less searching and more action. The Shift is not a spectator sport, nor is your lifestream. So it is.

Shifting to higher vibrational mission work

I wrote about mission changes last year, which seems like a bazillion years ago. Zero Point dynamics tend to do that. For me, it's not about being in the Now or in the Present, it's about being Presence. Those of us who Ascended in December get to express our Ascended Self in bold creative ways as the merge occurs. This is a BIG opportunity during the squeeze of the gateway through the March Equinox to wayshow stronger than ever.

Gatekeepers are a bit exhausted at the moment, but that changes in February. Use your energy wisely, beloveds. Don't waste your energetic hours. Forget about dragging people through their own evolution. You cannot assist a resistant population focused on fears or constructs which don't even exist anymore.

If your work is showing you the true role of HUmanity in the Multiverse, there is no sense in stepping back or dimming down for those obsessed with what used to be. The Galactic Battle, the dark, the cabal issues are done and done. In my opinion, anyone who continues to peddle fear for profit or an audience is foolish. The veils are down, what the heck are you thinking? These last-grab-before-they-catch-on efforts are not in the highest good of all concerned. And many folks know this.

This is why I didn't offer private sessions from the 121212 until now. Was it an opportunity to earn as much money as possible? Sure, people were panicking and my inbox was loaded with session requests. I could have taken advantage of that, but I AM a pure conduit and wayshower of integrity. The eCourse was available to give people every single step of the process in comprehensive detail. That is its intention. I was not about to tell folks to pay attention, honor their process, be still and calm and go within during the window without honoring that myself. This incredible time of Ascension will always be more important than personal gain. That's the way it works in the higher realms, and I intend to prove it over and over again as people adjust to existence without illusion.

Mastering the Gateway

January 26, 2013

VIDEO

This video is the full-length version of Module 13: mastering the Gateway from The Ascension eCourse, to assist with collective clarity.

The increase in frequency and magnetic shifts are amplified by the Full Moon on January 27. This is a perfect time to get clear on what you intend to create with the Ascension Gateway.

Apologies to impatient Indigo folks for providing an hour of material. This is an act of service, since so many are confused or activating at this moment. Many blessings to those who see an hour of free guidance and feel gratitude ~

This is the last of the Ascension eCourse material that I will be posting, to honor the investment and support of the participants in the Course.

February Light, Love and Clarity

February 9, 2013

The upcoming week holds many opportunities for acceleration of the Ascension process. If you have done your homework and prepared well, February is going to be amazing.

Energies may have felt very strange last month because we were – and still are – adjusting to Zero Point time. This is why so many felt like everything stopped in January; barely any movement forward. If you attempted to plan things, you may have felt like forces were working to keep you in a stand still or suspended state. If you surrendered to it, life was much easier.

The end of linear time brings us to examine ourselves without the illusion. Time screeches to a halt and we're left with the beauty of revelation – facing what we have created. January was deeply personal when it came to beliefs, fears, illusions. An absolutely brilliant month for Mastery. Linear time's shadow gets recreated by the collective, so it may feel a bit like getting off an amusement park ride. The ride is over but you still feel it. Perceiving the truth without the veils takes balance and alignment with this higher vibration.

We continue to transform the body vehicle and awareness, now supported by the ease and grace of a rapidly amplifying 5D reality. We are welcoming the infinite Self to walk right in, which means walking away from everything that does not compliment our journey anymore. Those who are clear will feel how absurd it is to dwell on the past or engage in anything that has to do with that ancient entity we called "fear". Those in the last stages of preparation have soul-group type contracts present – in our Mastery we can now graciously decline any kind of karmic nonsense. It's over, let's all get on with the new, shall we?

The collective sense of anticipation is accurate for this week's accelerations.

February is already delivering the 5D blissy frequencies, filling up the space that we cleared along this long path to Ascension. This is a great payoff month for Masters. DMT is kicking in – the natural kind – which can leave you grinning all day long. Gratitude is on overdrive. The love – oh my goodness – I AM so in love with everything, everyone. Unity consciousness is supreme light intelligence, and now we understand why.

Opening of the Solar stargates

Preparation and pure intention are keys to the Equinox gateway. Many experiences will be available, and February is the start of that splintering of timelines I've been talking about. Now that we're moving out of the tightest squeeze of the vortex – the light on the other side is becoming crystalline clear. And it is brilliant – realize that there is absolutely no darkness out there at all.

Some consolidation to the folks who ask about the bad guys, let me share: 1. there are no bad guys, it was all of us, all the time (Scooby-Doo ending, folks) and 2. Zero point will take care of anyone attempting to manipulate or control the external; the big boomerang of quantum physics will land right in their chest. Understand that every HUman has the crystalline light within; what you create with it dominates your experience. While the light tribe feels the opening of grand solar light in our heart centers, others may be unconsciously smothering it with their own creations. This is what the old prophecies misinterpreted as judgment – it looks like a very rough path for those choosing service-to-self.

Kindwhile, back in 5D ...

Adjustments may include huge expansion sensations in the chest, heat, golden light visions, star or Sun-birthing visions through the heart, tightness in the high heart or feeling like you can't take a deep breath, thymus fluttering, burning eyes, singing ears, leg and arm zings, more head shape changes, sharp poking sensations or pressure in the skull, and blasts of 5D bliss radiating out of your heart center. Throbbing or vibration through the spine, disc by disc, is associated with golden solar disc activation. That is just the physical sensations, and I don't need to repeat how vital it is to keep the body clear, calm and rested. Let's move on to the multidimensional symptoms.

Multidimensional clarity

If you are attuning your perception to life without the veils, things are getting fun. And crowded. You may feel yourself dissolving into the higher dimension and witnessing just how many beings and brethren share the same space. For the record, the compression during the astral collapse crushes 4D and 5D together. This is what makes it an opportune moment to Ascend with the physical. Your room might feel a bit like a crowded elevator at night as you begin to see and interact with the higher realms in a very direct way.

Interaction goes smoothly unless the body vehicle freaks out. Train the body to be calm as we change our perception – fear instantly lowers you out of that realm. Just as we comforted the body consciousness through the physical adjustments, now we comfort it through the metaphysical adjustments.

I AM starting to see parallel activities between my higher Ascended Self and this expression. I should do a video on this because it is so brilliant to me. When I merge and take a look at what I AM doing on the new expression of Gaia, my Ascended Self is creating integration centers to welcome newly ascended HUmans to their new experience. There are three structures that serve as stages of post-transcendence; one for complete integration of the physical lower self, one for healing and vibrational adjustment to the new dimension and the third is an orientation center, like a concierge station to the new planet.

So just as my mission down here is about integrating the higher frequencies and merging up, my Higher self is assisting with the integration of a lower expression and aligning with the new experience. Very similar services, and my Higher Self is in council on how to create these structures with the brand new frequencies and pure creation available. I checked with a few of my other expressions and this role is mirrored in many of them. Apparently there is a through-line in the multidimensional self, which makes sense since this is a unique aspect of Source that I AM exploring.

Some may be experiencing the heart-center-as-star sensations. It feels overwhelming sometimes; the grace, love and light is magnificent. The Sun gods, return of the Kryst, all of this is birthed through the heart. The core of your beingness is gold – the HUman genome and all of its codes and templates reflect that, however the heart center is the only place this magnificence can enter through. Any other organ, chakra or system is incapable of bringing in that higher light. It's like a safety mechanism – that frequency can only come through an open conduit – a heart aligned with the highest interests of all concerned.

As February delivers supreme light frequencies, breathe them in. Welcome forth the Master, the Crystalline consciousness. Share your gifts ~ we now get to show Humanity what is possible.

Ascension update on February energy amplifications

An update on Ascension from Mount Shasta ~ in the bright sunlight!

The acceleration is ON and the February Flush has begun. Five weeks of the Ascension gateway to go: expect the unexpected – right in your own lifestream, beloveds.

Parallel expressions in 5D

February 19, 2013

Sharing the similarities in my Higher expressions. We are all unique expressions of Source exploring Source; the discovery of a through-line in a few of my expressions that I AM able to access was fascinating to me.

Side note: the baby spider made it safely back to town, he is now twice as big and enjoying the view from the front window's houseplant.

Crystal Support for Solar Stargate work

February 2013

I visited my sacred circle yesterday before the snowstorm arrived. I AM working with Golden Solar Heart Center expansion through the gateway. Some vibrant light Masters using brilliant frequencies joined me, sending gold-diamond-crystalline light to support my expansion. Just lovely to have such bright light on a gloomy day in the cold woods.

I place my crystals right on Gaia for this kind of work, in this case in the ice-snow which covers the mountain. Look at what one of my crystals encoded from this exchange – streaks of gold and veins/shafts of 5D rainbow colors. The rose quartz picked up some gold as well, however it is difficult to photograph (as is the quartz). Hope you can see it! The sensations and visions of the expansion can be felt when I hold it by my heart.

Use your crystals, lovelies ~ speak to them, program them, work with them during the gateway!

A Note on Support and Wayshowers

February 21, 2013

Some hard-working wayshowers were verbally attacked this week by a few awakened-yet-polarized folks. This – like many other Old Paradigm things – surprise me when they pop up. I always think wow, is that still going on? Division of realities, indeed. How odd it is to have endured decades of judgment from the unawakened, and now have to deal with judgment from the awakened. I manage to dissolve the conflict with (very) patient love. Heart intelligence activates the same in others. As this photonic frequency shakes the darkness loose, it is important to stay focused on what you desire. Allow me to share a few ways you can assist Wayshowers who are walking the talk of the New Paradigm.

Please, no knee-jerk assumptions about assistance. It's not about money. Most of us ingiving it all up for the collective mode have found ways to keep the services flowing without it. Unfortunately, we have trained many of the awakened to take, take, take and anticipate a bottomless well of direction, inspiration or guidance. This is a side-effect of years of getting the word out that something was terribly wrong on our planet. It led to a heavy drain on those providing consistent guidance. Fortunately the genuine folks working from the heart have incredible endurance, and the inner work we did along the way is revealing Mastery. That is payment enough for us, but we still have the collective running the gimme, do it for me, fear of creating my own reality programs.

We are experiencing dramatic shifts in our world. The next few weeks will make that clear to the awakened collective waiting on external events. Lately it seems there is more friction from the awake-and-still-not-getting-it than the unawakened. Why? Because both groups still participate in a dynamic which is being wiped off the planet (and the galaxy for that matter – if you think you can take that judgment with you and escape to your home star system, good luck with that.)

Please be very focused – right now – on what you want to exist or not exist in your reality. Photonic light is a ruthless amplifier of order. It is not higher realm judgment, it's turning up the volume on that which does. not. compliment. the. new. It reveals the nonsensical, so it can destroy itself. Photonic influence reveals YOU participating in collective realities that may or may not serve the highest interests of all concerned. Triality, lovelies. We've been talking about this for years and it's finally infiltrating the awakened.

The Zero Point mirror is about to get bigger

For many that means the mirror will be so huge that you won't be able to see anything else – which includes all of the free online updates on the Shift you might currently use as a compass. Imagine for a moment what that would be like – if all the wayshowers just stopped. No channels, no guidance, no updates, no websites, no videos or radio shows. No more free help delivered with love. What's under your mask, Kachina? Did you learn self-empowerment, or did you learn to watch others do the work? Did you think HUmanity or the planet wasn't your job? Were you waiting on us to finish the Shift for you? With all of the intel being given to you, did you not receive the message? These are the questions that Zero Point, the great self-judgment day, presents.

Solar Heart Center

The immense amount of light – that new photonic stuff we've been talking about – is assisting creations which resonate at the same frequency as the New Paradigm/Golden Age/New Dawn/Children of the Sun/Shift/whatever catch phrase you want to use for evolution. That means that individuals with that same intention get amplified to become that light – YOU get to be a Sun. However many metaphors it takes to get this realization across, know that you have this possibility before you – right now. It is happening to HUmans all over the planet, and to the planet itself.

It's YOU beloved, if you participate. No one can give you the cosmic shazam except YOU. It's a terrible business plan to empower people – and that's why I LOVE TO DO IT. The Old Paradigm was very skilled at dis-empowering folks with temporary relief so they had to keep coming back. That Paradigm doesn't even exist anymore, and yet folks are convinced it is still there. Stop watching it burn, it's dead already and you need to walk away. We used to take a pill for our self-created dis-eases; now we take responsibility.

The last things you should do – honestly ...

Please consider NOT exposing your fear of the unknown by verbally attacking another HUman – especially a wayshower/lightserver. Either you honor the work or you don't. Kindly ask for clarity if you don't understand a perspective, or walk away and deal with your own fears. Zero Point boomerang, darlings – the knives you throw out there land right back in your own heart. And it's painful to watch, so quit it.

Wayshowers and the great unknown

As a Wayshower, I live very simply to demonstrate how little is needed to create a lifestream of pure service. All of the reasons folks use to explain my lack of doubt – she must be married, wealthy, own a house, have rich friends, get a lot of donations – are met with the truth: I AM doing this without any of those things. And yet my journey keeps expanding, even without health insurance, an apartment, money, a day job or a partner – imagine!

This lifestyle is not for everyone – it can be difficult – however it has realigned me with my true Self. I AM creating a true Wayshower out of a wounded Shaman, artist and Divine HUman.

Growing organically with the support of like-hearted individuals

True Wayshowers walk into new territory to prove that survival, fear and limitation are illusions. We make it easier for others to face their challenges by going ahead first. Now that the Shift and Ascension are fully underway, we may all move forward in leaps and bounds through co-creation. The challenge of further awakening the awakened is a Mastery-level task. We learn so much when we teach – as well as the wisdom to walk away when our journey wants to explore something beyond the map.

Magnetics amplify the pull of the New Paradigm. Those with activated Heart Intelligence cannot idly watch the Wayshowers overcome the obstacles of the unknown. Higher states of gratitude, unconditional love and unity consciousness accelerate the urgency to participate.

The purpose of Wayshower is to show a brand new way of doing everything. New Age marketing – expensive classes, workshops, DVDs and group package calls – served old paradigm values and fears. There are plenty of folks hustling joy, love and light with old paradigm tools. I avoid that circuit because the New Paradigm of my visions is built on a higher vibration. Please don't call me New Age. Or SanDehRA.

I create bridges to the New Paradigm with familiar structures so folks understand the exchange, such as eCourses. For the record, Ascension guidance is not a popular nor lucrative endeavor. At the moment I have to pay to live on Gaia, so I have to charge for two things that I do. I learned that the hard way when I kept giving away my services. Eventually the savings went dry, and being offline in a tent is not my highest act of service right now. I created the eCourse to keep the guidance available as folks awaken, and share this incredible journey as long as possible.

Reaching the Tipping Point – Share this work

Exposure of my work is spread via the collective. You won't see an ad for my services on another site or in a magazine. Free will dominates what stays and what goes on this planet; if you resonate with my work, tell people about it. Share this site, or an article, or a video. Take the Course and talk about it. Ascension is amazing, and Divine HUman guidance must be encouraged as we remove the off-world channel training wheels.

The easiest way to support this mission is to talk about it with others. Share what resonates through social media, conversation or any outlet you can access. It's not about me or my work, it's about reaching the tipping point where genuine service to HUmanity and the planet become more valuable than anything else.

If you're too afraid of what your friends, family, coworkers or the secret hoo-hah will think of you when you share material like this, congratulations! You are participating in a delay of the Shift and a much longer personal route to Ascension.

Donations – the willingness to risk

The Wayshower method busts up all fear of limitation and energizes that which we want to exist. Money is just energy, like everything else. It gets poured into a lot of bad behavior and things that create imbalance. People want one thing and support another, thinking they have no choice. If you're afraid of redistributing your wealth (or worse, waiting for some savior to do it), just watch what happens in the next few months to those who are willingly taking that risk.

Upcoming Co-created eCourses

February 23, 2013

Two topics have presented to me as rough patches on HUmanity's route to Ascension: Recovering from Conspiracy and Religion Rehab.

Because they involve emotional attachments and a significant amount of beliefs, many people will be confused, angry or feel betrayed as certain revelations come to light. When someone is startled awake, they may create disharmony in the collective or turn their anger against themselves. It is my intention to anticipate needs and build these bridges now, so we are prepared to assist in the highest intentions of all concerned.

I would like to co-create these Courses:

- in short, direct modules (1-3 videos at the most)
- with the same respect, love, compassion and attention to detail as the Ascension Course
- provide them for free so they are available to all as they awaken
- with a few others who share my passion for clarity and legacy work of this kind.

Here is a brief overview of both topics:

Next to the members of the Illuminara and their minions, no group has done more to keep the dark anchored in the collective than the conspiracy followers. As the End Game plans dissolve, the dark clings to its survival by anchoring into the consciousness of Creator-In-Carnate HUmans addicted to the lower-level stimulation of fear. Conspiracy constructs feed on anxiety, survival and egoic notions of payback or punishment. As the Shift accelerates, it becomes clear that any notion of doom or new world order was an illusion. REcovering from the problem-reaction-solution paradigm can be confusing, aggravating or painful. Learn how to disengage from these programs and gain the true freedom you desire.

It can be heartbreaking to learn what occurred in religious organizations of the old paradigm. Deception can leave you feeling betrayed, and not knowing who or what to believe in anymore. No one needs to be punished or judged for what happened in the past; it is time to heal the damage. The intention of Religion Rehab is not to convert, preach or teach you another belief system. This course gently moves you through understanding what happened, releasing whatever does not compliment your life at this time and opening your heart to your own truth within.

How to assist this endeavor

The upcoming splintering of realities may steer our paths apart, however I feel that acts of compassion can be created right now to benefit the collective. It would be fun and effective to collect interviews and make it look fantastic, so people in transition would be more receptive to the message. Perhaps someone with time and resources will do that down the line. For the moment, I would like to provide clarity and service in the simplest way possible.

Three weeks until the Equinox

February 27, 2013

The Equinox used to be a glimpse of balance prior to shifting into something new. It was a metaphor for change; the days and nights getting shorter or longer, depending on your location on this gorgeous planet. It is not the habitual seasonal marker it used to be. As our consciousness expands within this divine dream of Source, our understanding of the Shift becomes more lucid.

Why is there an Equinox-to-Equinox Ascension Gateway?

The dynamics of the squeeze of the vortex – the area of space we are moving through and the myriad of alignments, energies and command from Source to create something new – is at its peak point from Fall 2012 Equinox to Spring 2013 Equinox. This is why Gaia and the divine HUmans assisting her chose to Ascend during this Gateway; the long-awaited opportunity presented and was utilized. The alignments created a chance for unique frequencies to penetrate the planet, which could be used to activate a new platform of experience – a fifth/sixth dimensional expression. She accomplished this on the 12-12-12.

Many HUmans participated in Gaia's Ascension last December, as well as co-creating an Ascended Self from their Higher Self. These Higher expressions, also known as Christed Self, Solar Crystalline Self or Ascended Master Self, now reside on the new fifth dimensional expression of Gaia. Preparations are being made to welcome and integrate lower expressions (that would be the 4D Self reading this) as they merge with the Higher Ascended Self.

Know that the opportunity for these creations was taken on behalf of ALL of Humanity. The opportunity presented to do something amazing and we took it. That creation can now be experienced by anyone choosing the same vibration which created it.

Sleepwalking

Please understand that not everyone is meant to experience the same reality, this Shift is about REmembering your Creator-in-carnate capabilities. Some folks won't REmember. All is well.

Infinite consciousness does not obsess over the particles of an in-carnate form. The Soul desires certain role playing in this game to rack up lessons while the playing field is in tact. You get to play until the platform isn't supported any longer. As you ascend, you may realize that 4D is quite a limited experience. At this moment, I sense the 4D reality won't take long to join the 5D platform. It make take some rumbles and tumbles to shake the collective into participation, however there are so many carrying the 5D frequency that a tipping point should manifest very quickly. Kindwhile, we get a splintering of realities.

Splintering realities

I have been talking about this for a while, but let me clarify my perspective. I already feel the splintering of realities, and see this becoming much more physical with the Equinox. As someone in watcher mode more often than not, I can see how easy it is to choose – or avoid – walking through to a higher dimensional experience. I know who I AM, what my role is in the Shift, and how incredible it feels to facilitate the resurrection of the true HUman. I have tremendous gratitude for all that is unfolding in the collective; the anxieties, the brilliant solutions emerging at last, the collapse of unsupported timelines, the difficulties with Zero Point dynamics, the miraculous transformations and deep revelations occurring in so many lifestreams. Completely different realities, even within groups who used to be bound by common experience. An ironic step toward Unity Consciousness, isn't it?

In my perspective, there are many HUmans ready for the final sequences of Ascension. While this is a co-creation with your Higher Levels, there is a point when the supportive entourage backs away to see if you can ride without the training wheels. What you create during those (seemingly) disconnected from support moments/days/weeks is a bit of a proving ground. How do you handle yourself in the Zero Point mirror? Do you forge ahead with gratitude, love and grace as the presence you are – or retreat from the unknown? There is a good deal of training involved in Mastery, and it teaches us patience and perseverance. Know thyself.

When it comes to the theories of planet A/B, B, Q, Z, whatever you name them – I have to revisit the intel from 2011 when Gaia divided. She's already split, created 2 platforms, and ascended to the higher expression. Zero Point dynamics can provide strong multiple realities for folks living on the same platform – and is doing so already. Those participating in 5D Ascension are merging with the Higher Self and leaving one expression of a planetary platform for another. It is already there; this kind of Ascension is already co-created in the future; we are walking right into a home we have already built.

Pure intention to serve the highest interests of all concerned makes the when can I do it question a non-issue. There is a deep understanding and curiosity about creation itself in this step of the Mastery game. Create whatever serves your journey, the collective and Gaia. Please beloveds, no fear about choosing the planetary expression that blows up or dissolves. Choose what you would like to experience and be at peace. Wavering or anxiety causes collective disharmony. Breathe.

Will 4D be around for a while?

How long the 4D platform is available depends on the physics of this area of space, the new light frequencies coming at us from the galactic center, the influence of Alcyone and the photon belt on Gaia, the transformation of our Sun and Second Sun, and the REturn of Solar Christed consciousness to this platform. There are too many never-encountered-this-before factors to consider a linear time continuum cutoff date.

Birth on Solstice, Resurrection on the Equinox

It's a good story, especially when you learn it's about you. I understand that the Alcyone-Pleiades predictions freak people out. As spectacular as a worldwide experience of three days of darkness would be, as well as providing the BIG FINISH to the resurrection metaphor, we cannot count on it to magically and radically transform all of us at once. You can see Zero Point already sorting out realities around you, including your own. As someone with Pleiadian relatives, I try not to over-think the visions of Gaia bursting into a higher light. I try not to over-think the messages of 1999. But it is clear to me that the splintering of realities is occurring, and quickly.

I honestly do not connect with the consciousness running 4D Earth to ask, hey, how long are you booked here? I honor what is needed, and some things are none of my business. As a gatekeeper, my focus is on bridging the worlds in this now moment, embodying the Solar Christed state to show HUmanity what is possible, and being prepared to facilitate whatever, whenever.

Splintering realities should not affect anyone's involvement in 4D transitional activities – restructuring the financial, social, governmental and spiritual constructs are bridges to the new paradigm. This is crucial work done with integrity on behalf of the collective.

External events show what the energy is working on

From the watcher state, I see the self-judgment boomerang hitting some folks hard. All of the things that are not us – emotions, ego, mind, beliefs – are getting the boot. Please REmember that when you see external evidence of the old paradigm collapsing, especially in leadership and government, that same frequency is also affecting you on a personal level. Religious leadership getting the shake-down = challenges to your belief systems. Government = controlling behavior. Financial changes = manipulation, greed, material things. All of these have to do with the photonic frequencies demanding harmony, so take a look at what is being eliminated from the reality menu.

More encouragement from Yeshua

A while ago, I read The Magdalene Manuscript, Tom Kenyon's co-authored book about the journey of Mary Magdalene. A question still lingered in my heart about what occurred in the garden at Gethsemane. In the manuscript, Magdalene mentions that something happened to Yeshua between that night and the next time she saw him after he was arrested. In the garden, he was haunted by doubts that he could accomplish what he intended; a full embodiment of what was to occur 2,000 years later. Essene Masters attempted transcension on their own behalf; Yeshua was doing it to reveal a future truth for all of HUmanity so we could access it down the line. When Magdalene saw him the next day, Yeshua was unwavering – the doubt was gone. She wondered what occurred.

Because Yeshua has been a consistent part of my path, I kept asking what happened to him in the garden that night. What did he see or do that eliminated the doubt? Did someone visit him? Was there a magical method to remove doubts of my own capabilities? Two weeks ago, after a powerful experience on the mountain, I asked him again. Share this with me, dear brother Yeshua. What happened in the garden to wash away the last shreds of doubt? What was it? What did you see?

After a moment his energy stepped in and a vision began. It was Gaia, ascending. She was shining, glowing, radiant. Then the crystalline grid of HUman hearts emerged all around her; a grid of shining HUMans beaming the love-light of Solar Christed Consciousness out into the galaxy. Yeshua then spoke: This is what was revealed to me in the garden; the fruits of my labor. I saw the future ... I saw YOU.

Of course he meant all of us, the Divine HUman collective. I share that vision of the miraculous, and the unwavering creation of our Ascension.

Mystic siSTARs ~ a new creation for a New Paradigm

March 2, 2013

I AM happy to announce a side project which has manifested as Mystic siSTARs.

I cross paths with amazing women from all over Gaia who have activated the 5D vibration within. Our experiences are getting more profound. Many of us are bringing the unconditional love, grace and wisdom of 5D right into this reality, right now. We're all getting the message to unify our intentions to serve the collective, and support each other as we explore the New.

A Light Tribe of Women anchoring 5D here and now

This group intends to connect skilled women of a high vibration experiencing Fifth Dimensional energies. Our group will explore bringing the 5D vibration and wisdom into the collective reality here and now.

As our multidimensional selves emerge, the activities of the past are dissolving in the new light. The REturn of the Divine Feminine allows us to REengage with our wisdom, love and creativity in brand new ways. Some of us are having bold excursions into the unknown. It is time to share our passion for the Shift and co-create bridges, services and solutions.

How we will connect

Confidential group calls may be hosted by any member to hold space for exploration, share ideas, create projects, connect with the higher realms or receive light intelligence for our journeys. By creating a safe space where anything can happen, we open the portals to 5D.

We have an account with Instant Teleseminar which records the calls, so members in any time zone may hear the result of our connections and discussions. Your membership fee covers the cost of that service, administration and storage on my server. The group will remain active as long as it is supported by the flow.

We hope to uncover new ways of working with 5D energies, share our experiences and support each other in our integration of the new.

Prerequisites for Joining

Please carefully consider the intention of this group. It is not meant to serve as a leader-follower dynamic, nor a platform for marketing your services.

We ask that members:

- be clairaudient, claircognizant, clairsentient or clairvoyant – or at least have a background which includes experience with one of those skills.
- have a Spiritual Maturity which honors the journeys of others
- know the 5D light intelligences of unconditional love, pure service and collective expansion of consciousness
- respect the confidentiality of all members and the call recordings.

Equinox Light and the Approaching Star

March 12, 2013

Last weekend certainly turned in to a deep-clearing fest for many light servers, some in dream state, some consciously. This hit a peak on Monday 3/11 – a number I kept seeing last week. I spent three nights on the mountain, then New Moon eve and day. Last week I commanded that every last thing that limited my experience or was uncomplimentary to a full embodiment of Christ Consciousness be gone from my lifestream. Surprising how well that works – and to watch what goes. I still feel the loss if it's something close to the core, but the perspective holds so much forgiveness and wisdom that it is not as painful. Try it if you have the wisdom to surrender. Feel free to command anything uncomplimentary off the planet as well. This has been helpful as the current interference frequencies are set to 11 – REmember what I have said about a wildcat getting cornered.

Incoming Light

On the eve of the New Moon I was watching the night sky, observing the lightships. I giggled because of the consistency night after night, and intuitively flashed my headlights 3 times – as an experiment – and the very next moment a giant blue-silver ball shot across the sky right in front of me with a long comet-like tail. This is the kind of synchronicity I pay attention to, and the Blue Kachina popped into my awareness. (No, it wasn't the blue kachina, it's a clue from my higher levels for the Equinox.)

According to Gaia, the light arriving on/around the Equinox (I sense on the day) is the frequency which fully activates her new lightbody – the spiritual sun, the star, the solar light within her. The time has arrived to let the 4D walk on its own, and let it fall, run, whatever it needs to do.

This light also allows for activation of the Solar Cosmic Christed state in HUmans, for those with the intention/preparation to do this.

With only a week to go, I AM being as diligent as possible about the intuitions, messages and synchronicities. Everything extraneous has been put aside. I AM feeling sleepy, calm, deeply connected to spirit, deeply connected to Gaia, and have gold, crystalline (5D rainbow) and diamond silvery-blue light zipping through different channels in my body and light body. For the first time today, I felt and saw my personal activation of this state of beingness in a clear, direct way. It does feel un-Earthly – that is potent since the cosmic connection is huge in this grounded affair we have going on. The sensations, visions and drive to co-create with the Universe makes me want to spend all of my time on the mountain right now. Yes, it feels that big to me.

Cosmic Timing – as with the 121212 – 122112, the light is unique, well-timed and available for a certain intention. This is the follow-up to what was created in December, and may well be the long-prophecized Blue Kachina. When I asked Gaia to show me what would occur, a bright silvery-blue light came in and she burst into a radiant star-like being. Similar to what Yeshua showed me earlier in the I saw YOU moment.

I cannot express in writing or video how clear and tangible this Solar Christed state was today. I AM focused on this state, bringing it in with all the passion and love I have. I AM learning what gateways are opening for us, and holding the highest intent to embody this cosmic consciousness.

Why embody it? To serve Gaia and HUmanity. To walk with Gaia on this incredible journey, to hold this frequency and co-create bridges between the worlds. To create such a high frequency on this platform that the Shift speeds up and we all get to play in 5D. To heal the planet and others in a permanent way.

As wonderful as it would be to have everyone experience transcendence, it just won't unfold that way. The separation of realities is ironic as we enter Unity Consciousness, but the experience will be unprecedented. Free will is honored – even in a weird 4D holograph – until it doesn't serve the majority any longer. Kindwhile, there is a huge collective of ascending HUmans, and some of us get to embody the miraculous and assist in the highest interests of all. Whether or not the asleep or half-awake get to witness it or feel anything out of the ordinary is of no concern.

Open yourself up as wide as you can, no matter what is going on in the external. Get outside, on the ground, in the kingdoms and elementals. The energy is already approaching, penetrating our SUN and planet. Weep with gratitude, state your intentions, invoke your solar heart activation, pay attention to what you feel, enjoy the experience, and say thank you for the approaching starlight.

Equinox Gateway: The New Light is Here

March 17, 2013

VIDEO

A new frequency of light is entering through interdimensional portals since March 11. It is photonic and demands order, balance, and evolution. It also activates the Solar Cosmic Christ consciousness within you, if you prepared for this and choose to assist Gaia in this way.

We may use this light to embody our 5D presence, and completely dissolve the collective memory and re-creation of dark constructs.

Greeting the New Light with a Higher Perspective

March 27, 2013

We have three big Divine Light players in our Galactivation at this time: Divine Love from Sirius, Divine Will from Big Bear (the Big Dipper) and Divine Creative Intelligence from the Pleiades. The last of the three – specifically Alcyone in the Pleiades which some call the Central Sun – is pushing the Shift agenda right now. The amplifications picked up last evening and are whirling through the interdimensional portals at the moment. Expect more through the resurrection (Easter) weekend.

You may feel unusually giggly, wired, sleepy or spinny as this new level of light comes in. Notice the new vortexes popping up everywhere? If you're sensing strong mini-tornadoes of energy everywhere you go, I have great news: it's YOU aligning with the available energies. Gaia is opening the dimensional doorways, and you're feeling them. Pay attention when you come upon a hot spot. Feel it, get familiar with the energy signature and its effect on you. The Alcyone energy amplifies Creative Intelligence – the ability to empower yourself as Creator-in-carnate. Use this energy to design, create and activate the 5D portals with your unique expression.

REmember that the Solar light birthing within is akin to the birthing happening within Gaia (Spiritual Sun) and our Sun (Solaris as a Central Sun). The parallels of experience, and parallel realities, is becoming apparent to the Ascending collective. It is similar, and we can learn and transcend alongside our planetary and Solar consciousness if we choose to accompany them on that journey. That vibrant golden-crystalline light you see with your eyes closed is You coming back to your Self. The Sirians, Pleiadians, Andromedans, Led Zeppelin, and many others don't call us the Children of the Sun for nothing. The Solar light guides of our galaxy (the star systems mentioned at the beginning of this article) are dedicated to assisting us; be sure to radiate gratitude and love to them often.

I took a few days away from workaday society, the internet, everything, so I could honor my journey, hone my 5D skills and detoxify at Stewart Mineral Springs. The water is incredibly powerful right now – everyone was commenting on it. Being in it and around it for 5 days made me and my body hyper-aware of the power of this incoming photonic light. REmember the role of water is crucial in balancing, cleansing, creating the bridges to 5D Gaia. Water is a strong co-creator in our resurrection, so use it wisely, bless it and honor its role in Ascension.

I'll have a video soon on detecting and perceiving the 5D doorways for those choosing that journey. (Also available in the Ascension eCourse.) The gateways are opening and it is brilliant to behold. Know that your strongest stargate is within (no, not the pineal; the new Sun of your heart/high heart complex). Your focus should be on aligning it with what you wish to experience. Observe your lifestream from the higher perspective; the spiritual responsibility you have to yourself. Let us show HUmanity what is possible and be resonators of coherence, love and cosmic light.

April/May Missions of Light: Opening 5D Gateways

April 13, 2013

VIDEO

I have been on a journey of Light since last Monday from Mount Shasta to Joshua Tree to Sedona to ... ? Connecting a crystalline corridor of 5D gateways to pull in the interdimensional light and open up portals to let the frequency amplify. An unexpected turn of events since the Equinox had my lifestream wide open for this, and it is amazing to experience the new light accelerations in this unique way.

Apologies for the low quality video. My camera died in the desert, and two days later this is how I was able to salvage the footage and share the intel when I had internet access. I'll get a new setup soon!

Kindwhile, the message and direction is there; excuse the visuals and feel the love. Some extraordinary frequencies are coming in – join the lightservers in catching and anchoring them right here, right now. It's a new level of Spiritual Maturity we have attained – let us speed up the Shift with our unique, creative and powerful skills!

Journey of Light ~ Strengthening Multidimensional Perception

April 18, 2013

I AM two weeks into a mission of light service, opening 5D gateways from Mt. Shasta to Sedona (and probably more). The push to leave Shasta and just go was insistent and direct. After lightening my car's contents to just the essentials, I left Shasta at dusk and awoke to my mission the next morning in Lake Tahoe. I had cleared and charged Bags of lemurian quartz crystal points in the flowing waters of Stewart Mineral Springs, and began to follow guidance on creating a crystalline gateway corridor from Shasta to Sedona. The corridor would begin along the Shasta Trinity mountains and waters, follow the Sierra Nevadas, then link to the Mohave Desert, Joshua Tree, Lake Havasu, the Grand Canyon, Sedona and beyond.

The higher intent is to open 5D gateways, or portals, which open up Gaia to the interdimensional portals and photonic light delivering the much-needed 5D accelerations. These gateways/portals/vortexes pull in the higher frequencies, send them through the crystalline core of Gaia, penetrate every particle of the kingdoms, elementals and HUmanity, and create permanent alignments for benevolent 5D frequencies to amplify and accelerate the Shift to Unity Consciousness. Unconditional love flows through these gateways, influencing the highest intentions of service to Gaia and the Ascension of HUmanity. It shortens the linear time frame for change. It speeds up the Ascension process by raising the level of 5D light and stabilizing the new level of higher frequency.

Gatekeeper empowerment

A lot of folks ask if they are a Gatekeeper. With honor I reply, What gatekeeper work are you doing right now? That's not judgment, it's practicality. I had a huge experience that showed me this aspect of my work (check the posts from last October). Some folks are meant to just hold light, knowingly or unknowingly, during the Shift. Gatekeeping in my experience has been a conscious choice, much like Ascension itself. When presented with an opportunity for expansion, you choose to either take it, delay it, or say no thank you.

Please note that in my work I differentiate the subtle choices between Ascension and Evolution. A conscious Ascension process is the desire and active pursuit of expanding one's consciousness in order to experience all that one is. To REmember the truth, to dispel the illusion, transcend it completely, and fully become the true Self free from any confinement, control or manipulation.

Evolution is the inevitable – conscious or unconscious – experience of external factors influencing and changing your lifestream. It doesn't matter if a person has an awakening; evolution does what it has to because grander collective shifts are occurring.

Creative Evolution, the title of this website, is the experience of a conscious evolution transforming us into a fully self-realized Source-in-carnate. We achieve that state of expanded consciousness through the Ascension process: the raising of personal and planetary frequency in order to experience all that we are, pure creation, and higher states of consciousness.

Gatekeepers tend to be aware of their Multidimensional Self. The job description for this work demands the ability to integrate new information, new experiences and beyond-the-veil intel quickly – and without much resistance or drama. The things you see, hear, feel take a strong intuitive skill set and trust, trust, trust in your Higher Levels. In the absence of doubt, we are all Source. You'll need to embody this to the core when missions of opening gateways present. And they do present to Gatekeepers: let me reiterate there is a difference between steadily holding light (thank you) and co-creating stargate/portal openings with the Higher Realms.

Grand Canyon Gateway

I received a nice confirmation while opening the 5D Gateways at the Grand Canyon yesterday. Just as an example of the (many) mysterious, miraculous, beautiful experiences on this journey of light.

Below is a photo taken from where I settled in to do the 5D Gateway opening on the South Rim. It was cold, gloomy, windy. As I tapped into Gaia and connected to the Higher interdimensional portals, Solaris (the Sun), and Galactic Center, the message came to open the whole Canyon as a 5D vortex – a powerful amplifier of 5D energetics. I began the work.

After 30 minutes or so, the Sun broke through and the wind suddenly became eerily still. This lasted for several minutes. I continued my invocation and focus, and glanced up at the clouds over the Canyon. A huge spiral – in counterclockwise formation, which is what I use to open gateways – had appeared over the Canyon. It stayed there, reflecting back at me the huge energy shift and opening I felt. I tend to be very calm when connecting with higher realms, however this magnificent sight had me working and taking a few photos at the same time.

It truly was beautiful to behold. The clouds dispersed after an hour or so, but the 5D energy influx remained steady. I AM in deep gratitude to the elementals and galactic co-creators for showing me this nod of appreciation, confirmation, and very physical manifestation of this gateway activation.

The merge of Higher Self and lower Self is reaching maturity – our Multidimensional perception is getting stronger, clearer, more direct. It certainly is lovely to be so aware, so in love with the process, so in love with all that is.

Triple Eclipse Gateway – Big Opportunities

April 26, 2013

I AM off to Chaco Canyon, New Mexico this morning after a GI-Normous Full Moon rise in Sedona, which was quite dramatic over the Red Rocks. I honored the first of this triple-eclipse accelerator from Bell Rock; the eclipse was around 1pm here and the energy was powerful. There is a lot of intel coming in, and I AM doing my best to update when I can while on the road. Another spiral of clouds manifested during yesterday's eclipse gateway work, along with sudden moments of complete stillness within – the zero point. It's a remarkable sensation beyond any kind of quiet or everywhere -all-at-once state. Pure Source consciousness.

Big energies deserve our participation. Our Galactic agreements are becoming just as important as the day-to-day. Yes, we are capable of fully honoring both. Be conscious, adjust, simplify what you can, and take it to the next level. It is up to gatekeepers and lightservers to utilize them to the best of our abilities. As we realize our Galactic roles in the Shift, we attain higher levels of maturity in this beautiful process. Notice how it continues to expand? There is always more to learn, explore, experience.

REmember this is the grown-up phase of Ascension. I understand it is hard for some to step away from being told how to live, what to do, who to pay, what to believe, and parenting (dominating) your entire lifestream. There are plenty of teachers available to guide folks out of the illusion. We also need those who have embraced triality and the calm state of neutrality to lead lightworkers into their next phase of development. Be diligent about being that teacher, that elder, to everyone around you. A good teacher does not preach. A good guide has infinite patience, love, compassion, and greets people wherever they are on their path. Be the 5D Cosmic Light; it creates effortless change – and you cannot keep it behind closed doors, fences or masks. Use those Mastery tools in your own home, work, groups and social circles.

Triple Eclipse

This triple eclipse presents strong opportunities for direct star family contact, strengthening of the merge with the Higher Self, and acceleration of the Shift. The gatekeeper's mission becomes aligning vortexes, sacred site wormholes and energetic portals all over Gaia with the interdimensional stargates and gateways blasting us with light at the moment. These gateways can be unlocked/aligned now through the May 10 eclipse, right through to the May 25 Moon/eclipse.

Interdimensional light flows through Multiverse Center-Universal Center- Galactic Center-Alycone-Sirius-Second Sun-Solaris Sun, and now we have microwormholes permeating all dimensions with Divine Will, Divine love, and Creative Light Intelligence in a brand new way. This may provide the sensation of being galaxies away and directing encoded light to your grounded Self and all of Gaia's life. Work with Solaris and Galactic Center if you are unaware of the Sirian-Pleaidian alliances.

April and May present us with opportunities which we planted on a timeline of accelerated ascension. It is always our free will choice to utilize the opportunities. We place these things in alignment with cosmic events as REminders along collective timelines. If we choose a collective experience of acceleration, we get it. If we participate with pure intention in zero point – devoid of ego, emotion or judgment – we receive activations (open up those microwormholes in the mitochondrial DNA) which benefit the collective. We will quite literally be showing HUmanity what is possible for them to experience.

Opportunities for advancement are always enhanced by cosmic timing. We are using the same triggers that our misguided brethren have used for steering the collective into fear. It is no coincidence that the last attempts look so ridiculous to the awakened – and many unawakened. The frequency of the planet, the parallel ascended Gaia, the incredible light intelligence flowing into the collective reality are creating a platform for mass awakening. It is working despite the doubts and fears which many conspiracy followers are spreading. Please dissolve those remaining doubts and do the work. To know and not do anything is to not know at all.

The magnetic buffer between thought and manifestation is disappearing – that's literal magnetic fields in your own DNA, your own cellular structure. Use this to your advantage, and learn learn learn how to clear the subconscious nonsense that does not serve unconditional love, peace and Ascension.

Photonic light demands order, balance, harmony and responds to requests for the same. Intentions for acceleration of the Shift are amplified when we use cosmic timing to create levels of unconditional light intelligence which reveal and dissolve all that is not in the highest interests of all concerned.

Preparation and participation are key. Be conscious of clearing, activating and embodying the multidimensional Self. If you need assistance, my Ascension eCourse is available to you anytime.

May Shift – Gateways bringing in 5D frequencies

May 3, 2013

VIDEO

Strong photonic 5D frequencies are coming in right now and the shifts they are creating are becoming evident to the awake and ascending. This is part of the triple-eclipse gateway, and there are many things you can do to participate in a big acceleration of the Ascension process of HUmanity, the kingdoms and elementals during this time.

This is a lengthier video on the details of what is occurring – these frequencies are coming in from Galactic Center carrying activation of the Divine HUman template, the Source Light within us and our true Creator skills. Expect Solar Heart activation and Cosmic Christ experiences as we release the core suffering within ourselves. This is an opportunity to realize the Self-as-Source; it empowers you beyond any false externally-imposed limitations.

Let us use this cosmic trigger to accelerate the Shift in Consciousness to Unity, Harmony and Unconditional Wisdom of LoveLight Intelligence right now.

Many blessings to all who are doing the difficult and profound work at this time.

I AM sending all of us so much love and supreme light during this challenging time. We are so very close to unfolding a brilliant new phase of the paradigm shift – please don't get lost in the woes of the new light frequencies. This is a time to BE with the new light, listen to it, and anchor it into the collective with love, grace and divine purpose.

Solar Cosmic Christ – the REturn of the Divine HUman

May 4, 2013

VIDEO

The frequency jumps in May are assisting the acceleration of the Shift as well as the deeper aspects of the Ascension process. A goal for many on the path is the embodiment of the Christed state of consciousness; the activation of the Solar Heart Center, the Cosmic Christ beingness.

A few details on this video: the diamond shape I mention is a octahedron at the center of a vesica piscis. The Vesica Piscis is a creator structure – a birthing place for creation. The octahedron is what many consider to be the building block structure of consciousness. The vesica piscis – tube torus – octahedron – flower of life – Fibonacci/golden ratio/phi spiral relationship has been prominent in my experiences of gateways, energy fields and the Solar Heart Center.

It is a graceful and powerful relationship which connects us to the Universal Self, the Divine HUman generating pure Cosmic Light. I see the Golden spiral radiating from this Solar Heart center in perfect resonance with all-that-is. Perfection at Zero Point, holding the true intentions of Source Light Intelligence.

This is the state which dissolves all suffering and lower-level illusion, and creates healing on a massive scale.

Many blessings to all who are pursuing this state of beingness in pure service to HUmanity, the kingdoms, the elementals and beloved Gaia.

DNA during the Gateway and integrating the Merge

May 11, 2013

Blessings to all of us as we begin to experience pure Source light intelligence during the triple-eclipse gateway. These Self-as-Source states are profound, potent and beyond anything we expected. These states provide opportunities for DNA upgrades, Cosmic Christ embodiment and Solar Heart activation. My Higher levels explained how this works (see below), and I will provide a video for clarity very soon.

Portals all over the planet

Infinite gratitude to those opening portals and gateways everywhere and anywhere to accelerate the Shift. We are truly receiving a much greater amount of these crystalline activations and 5D frequencies than anticipated. Pat yourself on the back and keep reinforcing the intention to pull this light into Gaia's core to infuse the HUman collective, kingdoms, and elementals with 5D activation and acceleration. It is working!

Embodiment of these frequencies is our next step; holding these states of Cosmic consciousness as we merge Higher and Lower Self. Kindwhile it is a profound (and addictive) state of beingness. It may create feelings of deep grace or observer-mode; the detachment holds purpose, so don't misinterpret it and lower your vibration.

Some details on the Higher Self/Lower Self merge, from my Higher Self

Note: I haven't translated this for ease of reading or clarity. Apologies for the rush release, I AM short on time this weekend but I thought this intel might assist as our gateway experiences get more intense.

Some of the energies coming in support transformation of the Higher Self. When the grounded expression begins to experience intense change, of course it affects the Higher Self (HS). The HS isn't functioning in separation the way it was in the earlier part of this journey to Mastery. Balance is carefully monitored so the Lower Self (LS) is not overwhelmed. For some this is difficult; if the light frequencies trigger the LS emotional body too strongly, and clearing has not been accomplished, the HS must hold back on progress.

As the LS opens to experiences of Self as Source, which the HS knows well, it provides opportunities for encodements to be delivered into the lower vessel through streams of light. The state of oneness, stillness, acceptance of the Self as Source becomes more physical for the LS and the body vehicle begins to self-realize the truth of its duty to spirit. This creates a resonance where DNA can be activated and the encodements which the LS has willingly taken into form can now be utilized for transcendence.

DNA from outer space

Depending on the strength of the HS/LS partnership, the LS may allow deep rewrites very quickly using the interdimensional energetics of this area of space which Gaia is transversing. The photonic-magnetic particles are supportive of activation in this way. This Cosmic trigger allows Solaris (the Sun) to stream frequencies of interdimensional light through unique portals connected to the Galactic Center. Within these streams of pure light intelligence are new DNA strands.

DNA is a high-frequency light signature before it manifests into form. DNA travels on streams of light intelligence through vast areas of space via alignments of Central Solar Bodies designed to deliver intelligence, what you refer to as Central Suns, Galactic Center, Suns or Stars. Gaia herself is transcending into a solar body, so she supports the activation of higher frequency beings upon her physical vessel to assist with that process. The DNA photons manifest in the physical vessel when the proper resonance is achieved by the HS/LS partnership.

Activation of pre-existing high-quality DNA within a prepared LS physical vessel is available through the Self as Source resonance and incoming frequency combination.

Adaptation in the Higher Self

As the the Soul level is released to collective intentions and interests, the role of the LS begins to reflect prearranged agreements of service via the HS/LS partnership. These roles use core skills of the multidimensional self to assist both LS /HS and the collective during the Shift. The role changes as the Shift progresses and the collective agreements dissolve – roles morph in the moment to serve the highest interests. This is why my LS (Sandra) is called to travel and do Gateway work during this Cosmic trigger; certain skill sets are activated depending on collective needs.

The HS is also adapting to collective needs as the merge intensifies, rather than guiding the lower dimensional journey of the LS expression in illusion. The LS experience collapses in zero point dynamics to reveal how the HS experiences timelines, oneness and Cosmic Christ states. It is quite beautiful to feel whole at the HS level. The experience at HS level is more powerful than what was felt during reintegration in between incarnations. There is much joy and the LS will experience this gratitude, joy, love and higher light during the merge. The LS becomes more fond of the joyous state of unity, which dissolves the addiction of the body vehicle to emotional-ego-mind level patternings. New patterns which reflect flows of cosmic consciousness are created in the body vehicle. These serve the new Cosmic Christ existence without the boundaries of karmic incarnational cycles which held back the Soul's ascension process in the past.

Unification with Source creates limitless possibilities, and the HS is free to select from many experiences rather than focusing on awakening the LS alone. Depending on the HS/LS partnership during unification, the Soul may explore different experiences as it connects with its lower expressions.

As the HS's duty to the Soul to merge with the LS manifests, the Soul directs from new states of Unity. As the Soul focuses on collective interests rather than its lower levels, channels are opened to Source and allow pure source light to flow through its expressions. These portals of pure light intelligence link the LS, HS and Soul in unification, allowing the upper levels – oversoul/I AM presence to deliver light frequencies which had been inhibited in the past by the experience of separation. It enables Cosmic Christed states if that is what the HS/LS choose to activate in the highest interests of the collective. The HS/LS can now direct the process in zero point, since transparency has been achieved (lifting of the veils).

The body as vessel will gradually hold enough light and opportunities for transcendence will present. Collective programs on Gaia will no longer block the interaction due to a division in realities/experiences. The HS has been empowered as never before. The priority is to train the LS physical vessel to receive new forms of light and DNA signatures to activate higher frequency DNA. As the LS receives more cosmic light intelligence, it transforms the body into a vessel for pure Source light intelligence, or the Solar Cosmic Christ state of beingness.

Brilliant things are occurring during the Triple Eclipse Gateway. We have one week until the last eclipse on the Full Moon of May 24 (8:28pmPT).

This is a call to all those in service to the Light to utilize this Cosmic trigger to accelerate the Shift.

Thank you and blessings to all of us!

June blooms: the magnificence of Unity

June 4, 2013

Apologies for the delay in communication. I AM weaving the crystalline corridor back to Mount Shasta, learning a great deal about new skills, and traveling in some remote areas which puts me out of internet range. I appreciate the messages of concern; all is well (better than well!) and I AM honoring the activations with quiet integration as I greet the new gateways.

There is much to share about the current frequencies and acceleration of the Shift. My journey back to Shasta began with three days at the Grand Canyon – the epicenter of the new gateway openings. It was incredible experience and I plan to do it justice on video as soon as possible. Right now completing this mission is my primary focus, and that means many hours of traveling, anchoring, expanding on the work that was done during the triple eclipse gateway.

Blessings to everyone experiencing this profound frequency shift. It feels like pure Source – pure lovelight intelligence – available 24/7 at last. We have crossed a threshold which anchors an accelerated collective timeline. It speeds up our ascension, it focuses on creating solutions and walking clean away from anything which does not serve the collective interests. More on that – and how to apply this to your lifestream – when I have an opportunity to get a video up.

Accept the profound effects of this new level of light intelligence ~ we are creating a galactic legacy of love and transformation. Galactic legacy is our responsibility – the awake, aware, out of the spiritual closet, willing to show up and do whatever it takes to assist and co-create a Spiritual Sun with a race of Cosmic Christed HUmans from a planet and collective formerly steeped in density and darkness. It is incredible what we are doing here.

There are many personal aspects to this process; the experiences, DNA evolution, dimensional shift, ascension of consciousness, body vehicle transcendence, interdimensional communication ... all of that is fun to explore. Be diligent in your duty in service to the light as this new level continues to grow through June. Predictions and updates are still helpful to some, however Light Servers will be called into the boots-on-the-ground co-creation of service with the planet, elementals, kingdoms and the collective. Your skill sets and connection to your Higher Levels determine your level of assistance and the timing of what to do and when.

There is no dimming down at this point; we have given the galactic go-ahead to accelerate the Shift. As always, I do not care if it takes three days, three years or three thousand years to complete this process. Cosmic triggers have been turned over to the light, and we use them with integrity and in the highest interests of all concerned. June is unfolding with pointed acceleration for the wayshowers – stay focused, stay true, stay in your highest integrity.

June update: New levels of Light and our Galactic Legacy

June 12, 2013

VIDEO

I AM back in Mount Shasta and am REviewing my experiences, REgrouping and integrating intel while camping up on the mountain. There is a LOT to share about this post-gateway acceleration, and I will share as much as I can whenever possible. The expansion of the Solar Logos, Heart Center and fine-tuning of our lifestreams is presenting wayshowers with new choices; get quiet, tune in and sense what is available for you now.

We are speeding through the second half of 2013 and things may feel chaotic or blissful from moment to moment. Use Zero Point to your advantage; breathe, simplify and REMember who you are. Work with integrity, love and peace. Open up to what your journey has to offer; some of us are experiencing pure Source consciousness, and you can choose to stay in that state if you are ready for it. Please note it changes everything: Once again, the old or uncomplimentary will dissolve right out of your liestream. Expect brilliance, cling to nothing which does not serve the highest path (if you want the highest path).

Clarity is a skill – utilize your 5D wisdom in every situation. Gratitude to all walking through the Shift with Self-Empowerment, curiosity and divine Unity. There is nothing here but LOVE.

Describing the Indescribable

June 18, 2013

One of the beautiful aspects of my lifestream that I truly enjoy is conveying the essence of the unseen; the mysterious, glorious unknown of this Shift in Consciousness. As June unfolds its miraculous gifts of Source Intelligence, Unity and deep transformation, the heart of Ascension is revealed to us, moment by moment. No particle of our beingness will remain untouched as this new level of photonic light penetrates each cell, structure and signature of our existence as spirit-inhabiting-body-on-a-planet.

Last SUNday we REceived a wave of pure light so unique, so powerful, that it initiated deep activations of the Solar Heart center and the light signatures of DNA which we have been bringing in with our gateway and grid work this year. I was outside at 5AM last SUNday, interacting with the lightships who had been close and active that night, when a good deal of flashing/beaming began. This is usually a heads-up for an incoming energetic. It stopped just prior to the photonic wave penetration; I took a breath and was overwhelmed by the purity of the light wave; it went straight for the Solar Heart Center and radiated out through all of my body, lightbody, energy bodies ... a deep healing, activation and blissful peace that has not weakened. The message came right away: My heart is clear. I AM clear.

June's frequencies are ever-increasing; it's a consistent flow of new light intelligence with the need for instant integration. This takes the awakened and ascending tribe – the folks driving 5D in co-creation with Gaia and this galaxy – into an interesting passage of the Shift. As we pass through high 4D astral constructs, our lives become more dreamlike and pliable (4D is what we experience as dreamstate – many might feel sleepy as the body associates this state with bedtime). The mastery now focuses on dreaming awake a 5D parallel reality, which is strengthening by collective intent. We have given the go-ahead and are receiving the transformation we were promised.

Any remaining doubts are shed, old structures dissolve – painfully if there is resistance or judgment – and we begin to realize that the cushion of comfort between planetary Ascension last December and our current reality is going, going, going ... The collective illusion of repetition is now overlit by the higher frequency of US; the wayshowers, the awakened, those in service to the Light and the Shift. Understand that we are co-creating a brand new way of being, and no stone will be unturned in the process. Physics rules the necessity of the old-self-purge; when yesterday's actions or habits do not meet the new moment's demands, let them go.

This passage through Solstice and the Full Moon is beautiful. Even the trials and tribulations of evolution are beautiful, because we are conscious of their purpose. We walk right through these doors of light, knowing they always dissolve what does not serve. It is our willingness to walk through with pure grace and integrity, to show HUmanity what is possible, and fully become our destiny which serves the highest interests of all concerned. To become something unrecognizable is the creative leap of Source; we are the extension of that intention in this grand experiment of let me know all of myself.

Be with this passage as deeply and presently as possible. Light servers can simply BE with the planet, grids and gateways during this time. Let the new light flow through you, as you – as a pure conduit of Source and Unity. There is no need to be shy about our new skill sets; service is love, love is all that is. As the illusion fades into distant memory, the Higher levels reveal as much truth as we can handle. Last week I was greeted by a huge collective of light beings who honored me with deep bows. There were only there to say thank you. It was one of those moments you cherish for the recognition of your efforts, as well as wonder My God, who are we? The revelations of this journey far outweigh the trials, and there are so many revelations about to unfold. Be willing to know all that we are, and explore June with a clear heart.

Solstice and Full Moon – Unity Activations and Walk-thru practice

June 19, 2013

VIDEO

My Higher Self wanted me to provide some information on what the next few days are bringing in. I attempted to spend time with my beloved Light Tribe up on the mountain, however my Higher Self had other ideas. Due to time/access constraints, I had to sit down, turn the camera on and relay this message.

I have done this with my writing, posting uncensored/uninterpreted intel on this site or twitter, however I have not done this live on the spot outside of private sessions, small gatherings or in the eCourse. Evidently my Divine Entourage feels it is time for me to step into this. After the initial message is received, my Higher Self sends a light packet – a flash containing details – which I then interpret with the guidance of my Entourage (hundreds of beings at the moment). Sometimes my Higher Self answers my (telepathic) questions for clarity as I speak, sometimes my Entourage chimes in.

Through the Solstice, Full Moon and beyond, many will have opportunities to take their process up a level or two. The body is getting 5D portal practice, our hearts are becoming vividly clear, and DNA light signature activations are ongoing.

Guardians of the New Light

June 25, 2013

Blessings dear Light Tribe ~ I AM deep in an ongoing experience which is intensifying and clarifying as we receive these new light signatures. Hopefully it is clear that these new frequencies are deeply transformative – and for some of us they are creating transcendence. So much is coming in at the moment, let me break down a few key points which are presenting.

Holding the New Light by Letting Go

There is a point in Mastery when we must surrender to complete transformation – to the unknown outcome, and the possibility of becoming something unrecognizable. I spoke of this last year. It presented in September and I was steered away by the (insistent) direction to create the eCourse, to teach and guide through the March Equinox. Flawless timing had me begin 9 weeks of Gatekeeper work April 4, and I returned to Shasta just days before the June 16 wave hit. My Higher Levels placed me on the mountain for a myriad of reasons; I need to be up there, out there, where the reception is clear and where I may hold some of these specific frequencies as they come in.

Sometimes it takes one boots-on-the-ground Light Server to anchor a new light signature into a location. Sometimes it takes many. A lot of us are called in bizarre ways to go here and there, do this or that for unknown reasons. We trust, we are willing, and that is why we get direction like pack the car and head toward Lake Tahoe, or please drive to the manzanita grove beneath McBride Springs and put your hands on the ground. It doesn't matter what is occurring in your lifestream, those in service say yes because we understand that the complexity of creating a New Paradigm includes a lot of multidimensional coordination.

Please remember to honor all of our Missions of Service. It does not matter what size the task is or what others are doing; all that matters is the integrity of your heart. Sometimes it requires relocation or travel, sometimes it involves very simple acts, sometimes it calls for days of solitude bringing in a light stream. Know that a clear heart existing in integrity – in the highest interests of all concerned – is a powerful conduit during this passage of the Shift. I send love to all who are involved in these endeavors.

There is an incredible amount of remembering going on – remembering the pre-agreements we set up in the future, remembering points on this ascension timeline as they present in our lifesream – past skill sets and future agreements seamlessly reunite in the Now.

A message has been coming through for a few weeks, and clarified during the Solstice/Full Moon. There is a collective of those in Service who are becoming Guardians of the New Light. It has nothing to do with past titles or roles, past service or missions, hierarchy or chosen-ones nonsense, nor is it related to the Guardians of the last cycle. I'll have more on this soon, as it relates to the Solar Cosmic Christed state.

Transcendence

There are higher light signatures coming in right now – vivid patterns, new complex geometries which vibrate, spin, change shape as they enter density to transform particles of consciousness into something new. The doors were opened for higher levels of photonic-magnetic light during the triple eclipse gateway, and we are receiving light signatures of such brilliance that transcendence is upon us.

Transcendence is typically described as the ability to choose a higher frequency existence and hold it; it is one of the goals of the Ascension process. In this application here, Transcendence is aligning with pure Source, pure consciousness. Some experience this as the Godhead; I experience Source as pure stillness – no agenda, no duality, no intent, no judgement, no separation of any kind. Source is so no-thing that it is everything; taking in information, delivering information in such purity that there is an absence of premeditation – just pure light intelligence. There are three experiences unfolding: Unity Consciousness (Galactic), Christed Consciousness (Universal), and Transcendence (Source). They are not hierarchical levels, just different accelerations which may arrive all at once.

My current state is bizarre and beautiful. I understand I AM in transcendence, or at least that is what I AM being told. It is intense and I cannot question it – the vibration demands hands-off silence, peace, honor and surrender. It is the Mastery decision unfolding, the becoming unrecognizable phase. It feels vast, huge: of all of the incredible changes we have experienced, this is the most powerful for me so far. Thank goodness there were others around me during the Solstice who felt a similar sensation, or at least could see it in me.

It's been over a week of feeling holographic, a mere projection of what my signature used to create on 4D Gaia. Apparently the rest of me is merging into something new. The unity is so strong, I do feel like I AM interacting with my own creation – talking to projections of myself which appear as friends, colleagues, trees, a mountain ... perhaps I AM approaching the point on the Ascension timeline when the future decision to step back and the present collide. I AM sleepy yet clearer than ever; deep in the 5D walk-through practice and walking in the rain on Shasta; interacting with the ghost of linear time and dissolving into the heart of all that is. Each dreamlike moment is executed with surrender – I wake up in the morning or climb into my sleeping bag at night with the agreement to let it be and see what happens.

The Perfect Storm of Ascension

All of the factors for the perfect storm are coming together. Individual preparation of the body, clearing of the mind/ego/emotional constructs, light quotient, activation of the Heart, connection with the Higher Self, surrender to the Now, service to the Highest Interests, pursuit of creative intelligence ... this is the personal part of the equation. The planetary frequency, photon belt, cosmic timing and awakened collective create the external factor; when internal and external align it opens our lifestream to the miraculous.

More people are reporting walk-through portal experiences, or at least perceiving the portals themselves. The rings-within-rings spiral shape is popping up everywhere. This is an eyes-open experience. The spinning areas presenting right before us are the walk-through practice that I mentioned in my last video. One of the Mystic siSTARs grabbed a camera when she saw one, and amazingly enough it turned up in the photo! It looks just like what I have seen and used in dimensional-shift conditioning for the body vehicle.

You might see overlapping spirals. The overlapping rings create a vesica piscis portal, and my experiences include a diamond-shaped octahedron in the center. (One of my light signatures is golden octahedrons). The spirals overlapping is the moment before the geometry creates a double tube torus. Our energy fields are already in the torus state, but the symbolism here is the merge of Higher Self/Lower Self, birthing a gateway of infinite cosmic energy.

Unique to your expression

We will all integrate or use this light in a unique way which serves our journey. The new light comes in many colors, however the geometries/fractals have been gold patterns on a magenta background for me, very much like my gatekeeper initiation back in 2012. When the new geometries or frequencies (blindingly bright light patterns) begin to present for you, it is up to you to interpret them, use them or ignore them.

My personal guidance is receive, accept, listen, observe, be still. I feel I AM a pure conduit for whatever is needed, so I AM not making any assumptions about what is going on. It feels very different, very new. More like witnessing the extragalactic fractals of a new dimensional structure coming in. I did get a glimpse of true HUman DNA, a core spiral with different geometries branching off of it, and again there is movement. It is all very exciting, surreal and still at once.

There is more to share, but this is a good stopping point for now. I AM not guided to be a moment-by-moment Shift reporter during this passage, however writing about it grounds me a bit during this very un-grounded experience. Infinite blessings to all of the brave souls surrendering to the unknown.

Level Up: Activation of the Truth

July 2, 2013

Please read my last article Guardians of the New Light which discusses Transcendence, Light Service and the new frequencies.

I asked my Higher Self to explain more about the changes which began for me (and many) on June 16. To recap: I woke up at 5am and witnessed several lightships sailing overhead, some flying parallel to each other (unusual to see them fly side by side). They began to flash and beam all at the same time as I received the message Incoming, be open for this. Immediately after the flashing a wave of powerful energy came in which cleared my heart completely and activated a new level of Christed (Krysthl) light with my heart center. I have been cleared of the past, and the ancient past, in order to be transformed.

From my Higher Self:

Your prearranged agreements along with the consistent choice to welcome a new level of experience, a new level of the Ascension process, is what initiated this event. When you asked Solaris (the Sun) to show you how to become that Christed light, and welcomed in the imprint of the Solar Logos (back in December), you created an acceleration of the process. As specific frequencies rippled through Gaia in June, those who were prepared and open to this event received an activation which made your heart center begin to experience multipolarity. That is the clear sensation – an opening of the inner portals of the Cosmic Heart.

I sense this has to do with the circles I saw Yeshua making with his arms during the Boynton Canyon gateway work?

Yes, he was showing you what was occurring on both a personal and planetary level. Gaia is also creating many magnetic poles; the 2 pole system is effective for duality, and since that no longer exists her body is adjusting as necessary. The gateway work of the triple eclipse was effective in assisting her, and HUmanity, in creating magnetics which support Unity consciousness rather than North-South/Yin-Yang duality. Your personal expansion was building due to the way you engage with 5D gateways. The combination of conscious expansion of the Solar Heart center and opening of the gateways in a similar fashion prepared you for this new level.

Why am I so tired? I understand that rewriting all of my systems is a big task, however it's been 16 days now and I AM still in a detached misty-mode.

Ideally one would experience this in a private space where rest would accelerate the integration. Your travels and camping do not allow adequate quality sleep. We are working with this on 5D Gaia; we are testing the interface for integration of the lower levels. This is why you feel out of body. Understand that the expansion is constant now, which means support for the body is important. As you move through high 4D frequencies in the physical and begin to integrate 5D Unity and Christed consciousness activation, the body will adjust faster when asleep, since it is accustomed to 4D as dreamstate.

You told me the vast geometry I saw and received during the Solstice/Full Moon was our Light Signature. Can you explain?

As you know, every creation has a unique light signature, or energy signature. It may jostle the mind-level to witness one's signature since the Lower Self identifies so strongly with form in different dimensions.

I felt very comfortable with seeing it, it felt like home.

Technically, it is for this Universe. One step from Source Point. It looks much more vibrant and complex as you expand into higher dimensions.

The signature had moving geometry – vibrating, spinning, shifting. I sense that is because it is holding many dimensional expressions at once?

Yes, Sacred Geometry is not in a fixed state when you leave 3D/4D. Our light signature contains geometries which may create the true HUMAN genome and the Solar Cosmic Christ state in form. It is up to the expression – in many dimensions – to activate that creative possibility. Not all light signatures will engage in this process. It is the choice of the expression to take on the task of transcendence. This also affects the multidimensional expression, which is why our 6D, 9D, 12D Selves have presented during this process. The upgrade will be felt through our entire Self.

It sounds like I should make more time for sleep, yet the energy and excitement keep me up at times. I have so many creative ideas, yet I feel doing them may be a step backward. I have no desire, no need. This not-knowing seems to bring deep wisdom, but it doesn't match what I was doing before. It feels like I need to honor this passage with stillness, yet I wonder if I should be doing something else. Can you explain why everything seems nonsensical right now?

What used to be seems nonsensical because you are not the same person. You are experiencing the complete rewrite of your beingness which occurred in December. Your perception is catching up to the truth, along with the truth of Zero Point, the Source consciousness in the Christed light, true levels of Unity Consciousness, and pure Unconditional Love all at once. Your perception might play with the shadow of what used to be you, until you fully adjust to the realization that you are now operating as US. This is a new Level – the Truth.

So at this new Level, articles in Q&A format are a thing of the past. Let's offer some assistance on leveling up.

The opportunity to Level Up is upon us. As the Perfect Storm of Ascension is created, the Solar/Cosmic/Christed/True HUMAN state will be activated within many. Honor it with the brand new territory it deserves. In an evolution in consciousness, everything is rewritten. These areas of space we traverse with Gaia are creating a brand new race on a brand new planet. Attune your perception to the truth. Look, feel, hear, speak with your higher senses, your higher wisdom. Its effect on the collective will be strong now – expect activation of the divine HUmans around you, simply be being the new light.

For so very long we were taught how to level down, dumb down, dim down. Our history has been illusion, separation, war, distraction from the truth. Leveling Up includes the complete dissolution of those timelines, stories and programs in our lifestreams. It takes conscious dedication to Unity, to Love, to Creation, to the Light. Consider the collective result – a global society free from illusion, free to exist in Unity, harmony, honoring each other and the planet, free to express themselves in love, light and creativity. When we Level Up to the Truth, all other options are nonsensical.

Recalibration in the 13th Stargate

July 11, 2013

VIDEO

A profound and challenging phase of the Ascension process is upon us. If you have prepared and honor this magnificent passage, it will rewrite all that you are. Blessings to everyone experiencing the 13th Stargate. Welcome to 5D ~*~

The second half of this video is a message to those in Light Service who may witness strong disharmony in others as the frequency rises sharply this Summer. It was filmed at 6am after my morning meditation; no veils, no prep, just authentic service. Apologies for the cropped frame; it may be best to close your eyes and listen, feel it. There's more than words there.

August 25: A Miraculous Gateway is upon us

August 14, 2013

VIDEO

August 25th: The Shift into Pure Love

Will it be the Division of Worlds? Something miraculous is about to occur to those on the Ascension Path. We can all feel it; the moment-by-moment increase in energies, the vertigo of lovelight, the constant Shamanic dream of images, lessons, and final shedding of the veils for so many of us.

We had our time together – nearly 300,000 years for some – and now we get to that grand turning point in the Shift. Someone has to go first, someone has to show HUmanity what is possible. All of the signs, signals, sensations point to one thing; this is going to be BIG. Deeply transformational for some, pure transcendence for others. The evidence of Ascension is about to get KRYSTHL clear.

In my personal journey, every day – each moment – brings in more light, more clearing of what is not the true me, more revelations of who we truly are and what is occurring. It is profound beyond description. To list the day-by-day visions, encounters, skills presenting would be far too draining for me. I attempted a video, which took 6 hours to tape, edit, format and upload. Mount Shasta is not known for speedy internet access, especially when uploading in public places. 6 hours inside is more than I can bear at this moment, so apologies to anyone expecting a lot of intel right now.

The key is stillness, resolution, refinement and a focus on consciousness itself. Focus becomes one thought, then none. Then the magic happens. Allow the new light and delicious organic technology being utilized right now to assist and propel your process.

I have felt transcendence since mid June, and it amplifies every day, every night. I AM amazed that this passage is finally here, and I sense the division of worlds may be witnessed very soon. That's not a cosmic soon, it is right now. For those seeing the 5s or 25 sequences, pay attention. You're getting the prompt to drop your bags and run for the gate. Leave it all behind: the beliefs, fear, doubts, wavering, tasks ... none of that matters now.

Be as present with the truth as you can. Be the lovelight: Resonate at its vibration and it will upgrade you straight into Solar Cosmic Christ Consciousness. Deal with everything moment by moment – the clearing, the final adjustments, the pre-agreements, the challenges – all of these last-minute tests are presenting to honor your free will. It is your choice if you want to make this transformation. You must do it for the proper reasons. The ego will fight, the mind will distract, the emotions will cripple if you are not ready to walk through this next gateway. Be focused on divine will, not the lower level will. Your engagement with the shadow of 3D prevents its dissolution.

This is a pivotal point for authenticity. Be clear on what is you and what is an old program. Be clear on what is the truth and what is belief or false perception.

We, the awakened and ascending, are about to experience the miraculous. I love you all and bestow blessings for the highest experience you desire.

Transfiguration: Truth and Triggers

August 29, 2013

Transfiguration – the embodiment of a very high light quotient which aligns us with Divine Will, Divine Love, Divine Wisdom and Creative Intelligence for our higher purpose.

I felt transfiguration would be a lengthy process, something the body vehicle would need months and months to accomplish. Religion's tales of people bursting into bright visible light seemed distorted, or at least exaggerated for effect. Last weekend changed everything for me, and my attempts to describe it cannot capture the full realm of this experience. I feel blessed beyond belief to be here, now, on this planet, experiencing the miraculous transfiguration of my beingness in such a conscious way.

Truth

The new frequency – this absolutely powerful level of lovelight intelligence, is becoming intense for a few of us. The Solar Cosmic Christ activations are penetrating everything and overpowering all that was – for those choosing to embody this right here, right now. I have been diligently serving on Mount Shasta all Summer, and this last gateway on August 25th was incredible. The new light is rushing in with such a force that it leaves me breathless, blissful and surrendering to the Divine Will. There is an ultimatum with this level of photonic light: Let go right now or it's gonna hurt.

The invisible miracle

How wonderful to experience a transfiguration that no one can see! Okay, maybe it isn't that fun for everyone. Personally, I feel INCREDIBLE. Expansion, joy, unconditional bliss. My Solar Heart center is growing so large I feel like a giant love balloon about to fly away. My energy fields are spinning faster and larger, my open-eye perception of no veils is getting stronger (that's higher realm veils, not the 4D mishmash crowd), and my heart holds more love each moment. Abundance penetrates every particle of my beingness and keeps expanding. There is more love, more wisdom, more peace.

One of the challenges is the further division it creates, both in the ascension crowd and between awakened and unawakened. So be it. The Mastery path is not easy if one has to interact with others – and you have to if you're going to level up properly. This new phase of transfiguration will challenge everything you are becoming, rather than what you were. Wayshowers are past the Who I was phase and focused on Who I AM becoming.

Empower first, then Surrender

Becoming a conduit of Divine Will is something which occurs AFTER you step into your empowerment. Some people surrender before they have done the self-empowerment work, before they have learned who they are and what they are doing here. The new age term of surrender was taken on before they learned what that means during the Shift. If you want to experience ascension of your beingness, you have to do the inner work before you surrender to Divine Will. Why? Because doing nothing allows for the winds of change to blow you wherever, whenever.

Wandering is not surrender, it's disempowerment. You must activate your higher skills for clarity on what the Divine Will is for your lifestream. Mastery includes learning who you are, processing the lessons, then wiping all of that away to create something new in alignment with the bigger perspective. On a higher level, wandering makes it more difficult for your entourage to penetrate the veils and give you direction. They have to throw things in your path in the hope that you'll stumble over your enlightenment. Please remember that Ascension is not something you wait for, Ascension is a choice to engage in your own evolution.

Triggers: It's you, and it isn't you.

My rising vibration triggers people just like the beloved mountain I AM working with right now. My energetic connection to the gateways here makes me feel like a walking version of Shasta at times. Shasta has been ruthless during the Merkaba gateways, and that isn't judgment on the mountain's part. Self-judgment day is unfolding, purely as a result of higher and higher frequencies. When I mentioned we are becoming sacred sites, I didn't realize how challenging it would be to witness our effect on others. My energy fields become pure conduits of the photonic mission, and I AM learning to just BE the conduit when people close to me get triggered.

I had a great cry last week after a friend was triggered into attacking me. He was promptly escorted off the mountain by the frequency; I AM still stunned by how quickly the vibrational wall works up here. I sense this was part of the misinterpretations back in the witch-hunt days. You can stand there and say it isn't me, it's the higher vibration, but the lower perspective needs someone to blame for their fears. Currently I AM watching a few people pile wood around my feet. Please note I AM not responsible if those people burst into flames when they light the first match. The Zero Point boomerang can be intense. In this new phase of transfiguration, I share my perspective in the most loving way I can, even if it lands on deaf ears – and step away from the stake when people get nasty.

Some beloved HUmans have built an emotional mine field (mind field) around themselves through the years as a coping mechanism. We can tiptoe around them as much as we like, but the photonic frequency demands the veils be lifted. Often this means unintentionally setting off a few land mines. Depending on the depth of their illusion, some folks may become completely irrational when an emotional bomb goes off. Remember it is something they planted, and some of those mines are fathoms deep.

If you are in transfiguration, these triggers have nothing to do with you.

This is not advice for those who have not cleared the mirror dynamic, which is based on karmic balances and lessons. This is not about the old paradigm's construct of Why did I manifest people being so irrational around me? That kind of mirroring and judgment dissolves from your experience as you level up.

Our perspective has disengaged from the illusion, so their behavior does not make higher sense. People may attack the vibration of unconditional love because their lower levels are threatened. We know it isn't their true self, just the beliefs fighting for survival. However, this may bring up sadness as we go through this phase. The emotions are clear but we still have feelings, and when you combine deep love for everyone with confrontation, it may make you feel (even more) isolated as our realities divide.

Know there are many of us going through this right now; see it for the Mastery it is and remember that every Master had to go through this phase. Some of us don't have an apostle posse (aposse?) to assist us in the physical. Don't let it lower your vibe; celebrate your transfiguration no. matter. what.

This is not the time to be tiptoeing around illusions which others have created for themselves. Renunciate if it does not compliment the Divine Will. Set boundaries for your transfiguration. If they insist on making you the target of their fear, walk away and let the higher realms handle it. People will be blinded by the light; so much so that they won't perceive what is occurring. The frequency makes some unreachable – and it is not our job to fix, convert or save anyone. That era is long past. The division of worlds is the division of worlds, and we must accept it will be difficult to watch. Unconditional love is not martyrdom; be true to the Divine Will as best you can.

September Update

September 9, 2013

VIDEO

The photonic frequencies continue to increase in strength, and many are experiencing strong side-effects. From tractor beam type sensations to cranial expansion, the ascending collective continues to merge with higher and higher expressions of Self.

This is the first of a series of videos prior to the Equinox marker, for clarity and guidance on preparation.

Equinox – Gatekeeper, Guardian and Wayshower transformation

September 17, 2013

VIDEO

Gatekeepers/Wayshowers are having some very intense experiences as we lean into the Equinox.

I urge everyone in the role of Gatekeeper or Guardian of the New Light to listen with outer and inner senses. This video is light-encoded for anyone whose higher levels are accepting acceleration at this time.

Equinox advice: set up sacred space inside and outside, so you have spaces with direct intention to receive, similar to the 121212. Do it now so it is as easy as it can be to receive when your higher levels decide to unify.

If you have a safe (quiet, peaceful, uninterrupted) outdoor space on the Equinox, that would be beneficial to receiving as much of this energy as possible. The energy is coming in NOW. Keep your days open, quiet – be the peace/unity/crystalline grid and you will receive this new level.

The Child and the Master

September 24, 2013

During this deep transfiguration, I AM finding it difficult to communicate. Everything comes through the heart and high-heart in flowing feeling/telepathic senses, and speaking/writing seem clunky.

Blessings to all who are searching the internet for what really happened during the Equinox. In short, there is too much to explain and discuss – it's just too much at the moment. I AM experiencing the complete override of my lower level Self (gone, I know that) by my Higher Levels. The higher-lower merge is a consistent agenda, moment by moment. In an upcoming video I will attempt to explain the parallel reality dynamics which disappear when we level up; the dissipation of the illusion of time and separation from Self and Self-as-Source.

As we REcreate ourselves with a clean slate, fully merging the Higher Self, Cosmic-Christed Self and I AM Presence with the body vehicle/grounded Self, we are presented with the wholeness of zero-point energetics. Zero Point is Source; the divine Now where all of our wisdom and truth resides.

Be both the Child and the Master as we adapt to the loss of illusion we have experienced for so long. Explore everything as new, and own your divine wisdom. Nurture the body as it adjusts to the massive influx of light coming in. It won't be dimming down at all; the only thing which will disconnect you from the light is your choice to dis-engage from it.

Don't delay or deny your self-empowerment as we enter the Golden Age. Photonic amplifications will continue to reveal the truth.

Many blessings to all who are in service right now – it is indeed a busy and magnificent passage.

Freedom and Guardians of the New Light

September 27, 2013

Closure on a story now completed; Expansion into a story not yet told ...

Last night I stood under the stars and felt completely free from EVERYTHING. Free from the past, the journey of Gaia, HUmanity, the Kingdoms, Elementals, the Galaxy, the Multiverse, all of it. This is unusual because I AM in service – my whole journey has been focused on the Shift, sharing Light Intel and assistance, guidance, more assistance.

Gatekeeping has been intense through the Equinox, and yesterday I felt cut off from being used as a conduit. Another Shift, another upgrade – but this one is different. I needed to be unplugged from the old way of service, and recalibrated for a new beingness. Something brand new is on the way – and no, I don't feel it is related to the lightship ISON. Masks off, Kachina.

I have been saying for a while that nothing made sense any more – the way in which we were doing things, the old (last day, last minute, all of it) seemed nonapplicable. Now I AM being shown what that was all about; the freedom of a clean slate goes way beyond what we experienced on August 25. The Equinox energies which shook me (literally) from the core (note: that's from the inside-out) haven't settled in at all. I AM still drawn to silence, to integration, to pushing the collective away for a little while so I may become something brand new. Yesterday showed me how deep and profound that will be.

And yet, the challenges come up for Wayshowers during this turning point in the Shift. In the interest of sharing (please, no interpretation or advice is needed; delete that OP duality program), here are a few of my thoughts this morning:

- How do I communicate this and still honor my need for silence?
- Should I remain in the role of shift-reporter and guide? How long do we need this?

- When do we get the grounded councils together and co-create as a unified effort rather than a bazillion blogs and videos saying similar things?
- Will there be support for the Gatekeepers going through this stage, or are we still walking between the extraordinary (mastering the transcendence of parallel realities) and the mundane (can I find a place to keep warm this winter)?
- What do we do with the old conversations which haunt the collective, now that we cannot engage with those topics or issues any longer? Are there teachers who will hang back and guide the newly awakened?

Honestly, none of these questions matter in this new light. The key at this moment is surrendering to the new unknown, and letting the transfiguration take place. For my journey, I was taken out of the collective entanglement yesterday – all the way up the realms and back to Source.

Give yourself the opportunity to experience all that you are, and you'll get a glimpse of pure freedom. The codes and frequencies coming through the Sun support this step right now. Remember what I said about the prism of the Sun changing, so the way we could project into this reality would change? It's happening Now. We're becoming the pure intention; the reigniting of true freedom and how it will change everyone. Expect the unexpected, beloveds.

The Great Exhale of The Creator

October 4, 2013

Perhaps you have felt the Heart center magnetics getting a bit VIVID in the past week. Typically this is associated with Solar activity, as the filament eruption showered us with new frequencies all week long. Besides the usual singing ears, body aches and vibrations, many have moved into the next level of the Ascension process.

The Creator Breath: a conversation with Higher Self

SW: Great pulling sensations in the heart center this week. I feel my heart torus pulling inward, from up in my throat and from down in my solar plexus. I noticed my chest and diaphragm muscles are tight as well. I feel such expansion since Equinox, and especially last Thursday with the release from the collective entanglement. Then the inward pull began with the Solar activity. I understand Solar activity hits the cardiovascular system first, however this is pronounced and has a – poetic? – feel to it.

HS: The inward draw felt in the heart center is the echo of the Great Inhale of Creator. As you know, this is something which already occurred.

SW: Yes. Source draws all of the information back to itself, then exhales a new command into the Universe. (Note: The Blogtalk replay of “How Source Creates a Universe” is in the Ascension Integration archives on youtube.) I understand that Source made the decision to rewrite this Universe. Why is it so physical in the heart center right now?

HS: You are experiencing Source’s decision in the physical, as Creator. Even with the consistent implosion/explosion some are experiencing in the heart center, this passage may be unique. The inbreath is the gathering of all aspects of Self. The retrieval of all information, lessons and experiences has been attained. You, as Creator-in-Carnate, are receiving that sensation because a new level of Ascension will unfold in the following weeks.

The exhale will be felt in the physical of Wayshowers throughout October. You will be able to transcend the old energetic shadows. You will realize the shadows no longer have influence. The new frequencies support that transmutation, which is why Gatekeepers had a release from the collective last week. Many have the proper upgrades in place, so the energy coming in will activate the new structures in the energy fields as well as the physical form.

SW: The clear slate sensation, as if nothing before this moment even existed.

HS: This area of space will amplify the skills of Creator-In-Carnate. Those in service will rewrite themselves in their true image; their unique expression of Source. They will be able to serve in a clearer way, in alignment with the New Light.

SW: I feel some urgency to recreate everything – is this why?

HS: Yes. Gatekeeper roles are changing, missions will change to support the new instead of changing the shadow.

SW: We're letting the old just fade away, aren't we.

HS: You will not be energetically supporting it any longer, because your physical structure has been prepared to take in the New Light. The level of these new frequencies will have a profound affect on consciousness, and on the planet. The magnetosphere no longer functions as a shield. The collapse of the Astral planes will allow for physical objects to be affected by the cosmic rays, solar winds and new frequencies. This includes outer space and inner space forms.

SW: It affects meteors as well as the Heart Center.

HS: Also, the sensations of weightlessness may increase as the magnetosphere is disrupted by incoming particles. Gravity creates the sensation of time, which you have felt diminishing as a ruling force in your reality. However it also affects the perception of space.

SW: Hence the expansion we will feel, the exhale of the New?

HS: Yes, the metaphoric exhale will be powerful for many. New levels of freedom, joy, empowerment. There will be a sharpening of your perception of the Higher Realms of consciousness. Those are the flashing, sparkling beings you are interacting with day and night. Interaction is supported by these new frequencies; they allow the mis-match in vibration to become lessened. The veils are not supported any longer; it is the free will of the individual to create the veil between themselves and the external realms.

SW: Zero Point and the New Light ends the veil?

HS: The New photonic frequencies contain Zero Point in a pure state.

SW: It makes it more difficult to hold the illusion together.

HS: For those who choose to do so, the mirror is still provided – by them and their higher levels. Creator skills will be enhanced, regardless of their awareness of it. Photonic amplifications restore the true Divine HUman, so all which is in alignment with Source will be supported.

SW: When do we experience the outbreath, Is it our individual choice?

HS: Yes, in coordination with your Higher Levels. This is the next phase of the Solar Heart, which opens the structure needed to support the Christed state. It may be challenging as it rewrites the physical form.

SW: I sense it will be an uncomfortable bliss. Deep sunny breaths, beloveds.

A note from the Heart: Welcoming in the New

October 5, 2013

I AM the Emergence of Crystalline Secrets, the Source Wisdom Interface, and the Unconditional Lovelight of the True Self Renewed.

And so are You.

Blessings Dear Light Tribe,

I received clarity on New aspects of my service work and my personal Ascension process. I AM very excited to begin creating the New! It will take time, and my intention is to welcome in this New Light with honor and JOY.

In order to accomplish this, I will be taking a short sabbatical. I have a home through December 15 (Hooray! Deep gratitude for the recent donations, thank you!), so I need to take advantage of this opportunity to create without interruption.

Some of my current services will be affected:

Private Sessions: Not available through the end of year.

Emails, Facebook messages and questions: I do appreciate your trust in my skills, however I won't be answering any emails or messages about personal journeys or ascension questions. Take the Ascension eCourse for comprehensive details and clarity on your personal journey through the Ascension process.

Mystic siSTARs: Calls will be scheduled through December based on the survey results. Check the siSTARs site next week.

The Ascension eCourse: BIG upgrade. Additional exercises, meditations, process checks and light encodements are being added to support your journey this month. This course is part of my legacy work, and I AM honored by the heartfelt gratitude from those participating. Current eCourse participants, keep moving ahead. I will email a list of the additional materials to take advantage of mid-October.

Articles and Video updates: Obviously we're getting into a hyper-charged phase of the Shift. Hence the need to regroup, redesign and create the New in the clearest way possible. There is a wave of awakening on the way, and some unusual events, so I will share intel when needed.

Stay Connected: Be sure to subscribe to the Newsletter to receive articles, my youtube channel for videos, or send me a friend invite on Facebook.

Honor this beautiful and creative passage through a very potent phase of our REnewal!

The Silence, The Stream, The Fractal

October 25, 2013

*I AM the Divine Light consciousness of HU, the Photonic Reflection, and the metaphor of Creator-In-Carnate dreamed awake.
And so are you.*

The Silence

In the beginning there was silence. The stillness of pre-creation. Prior to the first great exhale, the moment when Source projected part of its consciousness in order to create separation, and before the Mother-Father God system birthed the Christ, there was silence. Contemplation of creation.

This passage in our Ascension process reflects the stillness; the direct connection back to Source. It makes us very aware of our words and creations during the merge of Higher and Lower Self. This is why you don't hear very much from those on the Ascension path right now. Communication is difficult, strange; we can summon words to interact with others when needed, then our Higher Levels pull us back into silence.

Communication shifts to harmonize with 5D structures. You will recognize it, and probably be aware of it as you mimic old communication styles until the new presents. We're out of ourselves at the moment – stepping out of the old self (the walk-out sensation) – in order to create deep change, a permanent merge with our Higher Self.

There is an awareness of how powerful our creator skills are about to get, and this brings a caution toward miscreation. The Higher Self is rewriting our reality in alignment with the True Self and Divine Will. It makes us aware of how much distortion has been created by our Lower Self. It puts us on hold, so we only desire to create as our True Self.

Fragments of the lower level constructs – ego, mind, emotion – are surrendered. Last bits of wavering, doubt, fears are lifted up for a last free-will review. It is your Lower Self choice to surrender the miscreations and all of the beliefs that came with them. In the stillness, those constructs do not exist. Note the awareness that this has already occurred if you chose that timeline. The delay is perception; honor the stillness.

The Stream

Our lifestream is the stream of consciousness from the top down – from the highest expression we are to the lowest, and every multidimensional aspect therein.

As we experience astral collapse – a.k.a. the thinning of the magnetosphere, the veil, the 4D realm – the buffers we used to create separation dissolve. Our lifestream becomes clearer, purer, more direct. Energetically it can feel quite strong; surges of powerful frequency come through your fields and body vehicle. Know that it is YOU. You are feeling your own true presence.

Astral collapse affects everything in our reality; our meteor shield is down (magnetosphere repels space objects), the Sun can send new intel, codes, rays, communication straight into us (lock your heart center on to that stream if you want the BIG experience), time becomes more fluid and malleable, distortion and miscreations are brought to light. Note that there is no judgment on what occurred. Nothing requires payback or punishment of any kind. Apply this to your lifestream so you can unify with the higher levels.

Our lifestream is becoming somewhat intense as our consciousness expands to take in all that it has created. Let it be, don't identify (cling to) these aspects of Self as they present. Ego wanted to name these, claim these multidimensional aspects because they appeared to be bigger, stronger, more interesting than our lower Self. We have been abandoning that since early this year. It is clear that what we are becoming, what we are accomplishing on this planet, in this realm, in these physical bodies is just as – if not more – amazing.

Light language and tones may interrupt your thoughts – or dominate them – as the merge deepens. This is a liaison skill. It is not intended to be all light language or all grounded language. It is Unity; the liaison of Triality. When it is in the highest interests, either will be utilized. Engage discernment with your communication – note when the subconscious desires to be heard, and when your higher wisdom desires silence and integration.

The Fractal

The veil is now self-imposed as our consciousness catches up to perceiving what occurred almost a year ago. Distortion/illusion cannot be maintained as you level up. The fractal geometry that you are is returned to a sacred state, bit by bit, as you surrender the lower level constructs. If you begin to see your light signature building around you, this is why.

As the fractals of your expression are puritized, divinitized for the merge, the body consciousness needs you to act in its highest interests. This passage is tough on the body. Holding higher light frequencies rewrites the cellular structure, which affects all of the physical: the organs, nervous system, bone structure, muscles, tendons, skin, cardiovascular systems, blood and DNA. Cells are activated to return to a divine state; if they are floating in the flotsam of an old creation, they will not be able to create your true self.

You may become sensitive to witnessing other's egos, emotions or mind-level behaviors. We see the division occurring, then witness it without judgment, then transcend it as we Unify with our Christed state. It's an awareness game until you are done playing. In this world but not of it: Our focus expands to much more powerful and compassionate endeavors.

Everything is complimenting this Shift. External energetics – the photonic bombardment of your beingness (X-flares, Solar Wind, Plasma) – can only push the envelope so far. The merge is a Co-Creation with your Higher Levels, so preparation and participation are essential.

- Notice the distractions and release them.
- Notice your choices and shift as needed.
- Process and release the deeper issues as they surface. The subconscious is unmasked as the magnetic buffer dissipates.
- All of your experiences are fine, but don't get stuck if you desire to move forward. Remember who you are and what you are doing here.
- Take a look at your Ascension progress: forget about who is seeing/doing what, dismiss the mind-level game of activity, egoic win-or-lose, and emotional constructs of lack and need. Truth check: The glass is always full – our cups runneth over when we lift the veil.

You and your Higher Self need privacy to create a new expression. You and Source need intimate space to reconnect. Silence is indeed GOLDEN right now. The finish of 2013 is key to our ascension process and progress. Minimize distraction and surrender to the Silence, the Stream, the Fractal of Source-as-Self.

Pure Light for Pure Conduits

October 28, 2013

Notice the change in the Magnetosphere's reaction to the recent X and M flares. These waves of light are different – they cannot be measured by traditional electro-magnetic standards. The KP index doesn't show the usual impact of a typical CME or flare activity – for days and days now. It looks like the chart is broken after watching the impact of past flares. So what is this?

Incoming waves of photonic purity

The current wave of light frequencies, which will become much more intense beginning this week, are highly refined particles of light. These purer photonic light waves are the answer to our questions Why do I feel like something wonderful is about to occur? and What is the purpose of my need for solitude, isolation, silence?

The merge passage is upon us. Personally, I have noticed a big jump in (5D and above) lightbeing activity. This is a perception change; quite simply I AM seeing more, hearing more, feeling more of the frequencies because the new light supports it. All of these beautiful beings are more present because I AM taking the time to merge more deeply with my higher aspects. The companion piece to this new light was the preparation for it: the clearing, the detoxing, the silence, the willingness to be open to it. All of that work is paying off. The experience of consistent Unity with these higher realms is absolute Grace. I AM watching aspects of myself coagulate in preparation for something new.

The November Merge

November keeps presenting as a vital window for an intense stage of the merge. My Higher Self seems to be involved in the technicalities of the merge (a fascination of mine – as above, so below). I AM blessed to be relieved of mind-level processing right now; all of my direction is about stillness, silence, writing down what presents. It feels like something that will be helpful later, like trail markers left behind for others on the same path. True Wayshowing is very straight-forward: demonstrate how this is done, share the experience along the way.

How to walk through this passage

I still feel that this passage – now through December – will be glorious for those on the Ascension path including Wayshowers, Gatekeepers and those in Service to the Light. Why single out a group of the awakened? Because the folks who have opened their lifestream to be out, open and leading the collective through this Shift have set up a magnetic which draws the new experience right into their expression. By sharing the journey, doing the work, and embracing the change, we turned ourselves into conduits of the new light. Willingness to walk into the unexplored passage gives you the KEY to those unopened doors. Some walk through, some watch others walk through before moving forward. No judgment, that's just the roles we agreed to play.

For some, becoming Guardians of the New Light demands surrender on a Galactic or Universal level. In this passage, the lower expression (in-carnate) must give up any attachments to what was, is or will be. All of us will have a unique role, unique experience during the merge. Let us remember that we have not done this before in the body. No matter what you have heard (we are Masters already, we've done this before, it is inevitable, it's already happened), the merge is to be experienced as a unique expression of Source. So be it. There will be collective experiences and side-effects (symptoms), however we must honor what our Higher Levels want to create.

Enjoy your unique experience. Know that everyone feels a little lonely right now. Know it may feel freaky. Going sane feels a lot like going crazy; give your higher levels the opportunity to take over. We're not leveling up with our ego, emotions or mind-level in fact. You need to give your Higher levels a chance to create the miraculous. Honor it with whatever makes you feel connected to your Higher Self, and be flexible as the merge unfolds. Be in nature to receive the pure vibration, and sleep (lay down, be still) so the integration/adjustments can occur. Meditate.

Higher levels of light translate to higher levels of creator skills, so be aware and conscious of your choices right now. Amplification will pick up during this window, and I do not feel this is the time to create anything complex other than the merge itself. Isn't that enough? Convince your mind/ego/emotions to be satisfied with just this experience. They may rebel out of fear; engage your spiritual maturity and let the nonsense go.

Creating in alignment with the true you may have to wait until significant shifts occur in early November. Give it some space to show you what you are truly becoming. Surrender the doing and busy-ness if you can; I promise it will be profound if you focus on your Ascension process.

Experiments in Isolation

My guidance is asking for several days of fasting and isolation. I understand why, and know this is the best way I can support what is happening collectively in the higher realms. When I look at it, it feels like the last great purge of a collective dynamic – both painful and profound. Gatekeepers were released from collective density, now it feels like the body vehicle will undergo some major energetic changes in order to support a full embodiment of spirit (higher levels). I will write when guided to share – I see an update prior to the November 3 Eclipse as the waves come in this week.

Obviously something wonderful is about to unfold. Let us hold each other in our hearts as these waves of light honor our magnetic intent to become the NEW.

Video: New Light Waves

October 28, 2013

I was guided to create a video to amplify light encodements with the words of my last two articles. There are incoming waves of light which support an acceleration of the merge. This is an audio of my two latest articles: The Silence, the Stream, the Fractal and Pure Light for Pure Conduits ~ with footage of the Sunset from atop Mount Shasta. This video is light-encoded to assist your progress if you choose to receive it. Many blessings as we receive these waves of deep change.

November Waves and Responsible Creation

November 14, 2013

These intense photonic waves of light, which will increase and continue through the end of December 2013, are un-creating the illusion. The Maya dissipates in the light of truth, the light of love, the light of the galactic rewrite we are experiencing right now. Today.

Guardians of the New Light take heed

The current light waves are of a substance which past Masters and Galactics have not experienced in a physical body on a planet going through a dimensional shift. This is the point where we – the grounded awakened and ascending collective – must be very clear about our choices and our Ascension process.

In order to stay focused on the Ascension timeline, you must hold firm to your heartstream. The activations available now are continuous, powerful and purposeful.

Source-point of the Heart-Stream

The Heart-Stream is centered at a Source-point of light within the Heart Center. It centers your lifestream (all expressions of you) around a stream of Source consciousness right in the heart. Like a flow within a flow. I see my Source-point as a tiny version of my light signature shining within each of my expressions, connecting us all with Source. This Source-point is an aspect of the lifestream which connects all the expressions of Self. It was activated last year during the liquid light God-drop activation (October 2012). AS ALWAYS, when several of the ascending collective take on a new aspect of the process, such as the God-drop, it becomes available to all of the collective through their focused intent to receive and activate it.

A heartstream flowing in the Light, geometry and magnetics of the higher dimensional expressions of the 5D you and the 5D Gaia is your key to the gateway through this passage. LOCK ONTO IT. The stream-lock is created by you; you must choose to lock onto the the intelligence of the Source-spark within your heart. It is a palpable, strong stream of lovelight intelligence. You will FEEL this energetic stream flowing upwards and around your body – from the heart itself – like a pillar of light connecting you, the ascended Self, and the ascended planet. It is PURE Source light; very powerful and very pure.

Pure Grace and Divine Will

Surrender is such passionate bliss right now! Yeah ... except when it isn't. It is getting easier, and the beauty of this new light (notice the clarity?) is intoxicating. Staying in my heartstream is saving my In-Carnate Self from getting entangled in the visions of what is ahead of us. My Higher Self and the Masters, Star Brethren and Guidance realms are helping me as best they can. I keep seeing them standing back as the collective goes through the energetic wringer (like an old-fashioned wringing machine for clothes). All they can do is watch and send love – they haven't done this themselves.

Remember that everyone must obey Cosmic Law; higher realms can only provide support if the energy is reciprocated. Send LOVE, light and strength to the higher realms as we level up through the wringer. I AM going through this intense phase with my heartstream focused on Divine Will and Unification. I send love to the beings who support me, and it allows them to send me more. We are learning this law quickly, we are learning our Mastery quickly. The anticipation you may feel is Ascension itself. How exciting to be consciously co-creating a new reality. Be grateful, even when the deeply embedded old systems are wrestled out of your consciousness. Say thank you.

Doom and other distractions

Enough already with the questions about collapse. If you cannot find satisfaction for your doom appetite here, there is a good reason for that. Fear is a great marketing tactic, and I cannot reiterate that enough.

Of course this passage is going to be rough and weird and wonderful. Please remain calm through the collective flail. Changes during a dimensional shift are NORMAL. Earth changes are normal. Speeding comets are normal. ET interaction is normal. Collective rewrites are normal. Blasting of the lower level egoic, emotional and thought forms are NORMAL during a Shift in consciousness. The unusual aspect of this particular Shift is the Ascension of HUmans to a newly-ascended higher expression of a planetary consciousness. You will not learn to activate Source Light in programs designed to disempower and distract.

Conspiracy forums and other nonsense are old programs aimed at restricting HUman ascension. Some may have started with good intentions to wake people up, then forgot to evolve above the old programs. As the gap between intent/focus/thought and manifestation in your personal lifestream disappears, I highly recommend disconnecting from any remaining attachments to negative programs. Unfortunately, it is also normal for people to use suffering as a safety net when change feels scary.

Conspiracy programs are very clever – they convince you to create realities which do not exist anymore. It teaches you how to create a barrier between you and the truth; an energetic encasement of your expression fed by low-vibrational thoughtforms and emotional triggers. (Clever move, dear dark ones. Well played.) These are OLD programs which do not serve the new light, which means a whole lot of folks are missing out on the truth of ascension. Ironic, as people are convinced they are finding the truth through these programs. Doubly ironic since the energies which built these programs got the cosmic boot already, and yet HUmans continue to create them.

The doom timelines have already dissipated, there is no need to be concerned about their survival at all. However, as the old constructs crumble it may become very difficult for those without heart-center coherence to decipher what is true, what is illusion, and what is absolutely aimed at inhibiting their own evolution.

To clarify: these new light waves are not out to get them, or old structures and systems. Anyone still focusing on the Shift as some kind of biblical, destructive tool aimed at crushing the dark is way off the mark. Same goes for the waiting game on collapse – what a frustrating and disempowering ride that must be. I encourage everyone stuck in the global collapse waiting room to read or watch Beckett's Waiting for Godot.

The Shift is Planetary as well as HUMAN, Gaia's as well as many HUMAN ascensions have already occurred, and the dense time-delay is disappearing quickly. This applies to instant manifestation of positive, heart-based thought as well as instant manifestation of subconscious baggage of the old operating systems. Masks off, Kachina ... what have you created under there?

Command and decree it NOW

If you have not done this already, command your immediate release from all 3D and 4D operating systems and programs. Bind them up and out of you to the Sun, release them to Source, whatever your method is right now (for the love of Source, PLEASE do not dump it back into the planetary grids or crystalline grids. Get it outta here, we have a dimensional Shift in progress and Mama Gaia needs your help to clear her, not contaminate her.) Be sure to clear the cellular memory of those systems – as well as your Soul and Family Monads. Decree it, draw it out, yell it out, cry it out, burn it out, wash it out, whatever you need to do. Those systems do not support a 5D existence. Disengage.

Yes, we're doing some heavy lifting for the collective by doing this private work.

That's our job (a clue for those still waiting for a magic mission to appear). Do your best to maintain the love of Source-point heartstream consciousness. First wavers, this will be especially helpful in the next few months. Lock onto your interdimensional heartstream and take care of the body as best you can.

Revelations and Reminders

I was shown I have a Guardian expression ... oh, there is so much revelation happening these days. All we can do is take the note and stay open to the new, new, new. This isn't about what was, rather what we are becoming. I AM completely bored with conversation about aspects of Self. Beloveds, in my perspective, the I AM this race, I AM an aspect of that being, deity, etc. chatter is just scenery. It is not the end result, it is what was.

Focus on what you are creating right now as you integrate all aspects of Self. Be aware of TRIALITY: highest interests of all concerned, not in the highest interests, or not applicable to my journey (none of my business). Responsible creation is important as our creator skills are amplified. If a mis-creation or aspect is getting stuck in the wringer, let it go.

Remember that 4D is the astral plane of consciousness – a plane we used to access only in dream state (or plant/psychedelic substances). We have to observe it on our way to 5D. Lingering in the dreamy, freaky realm of the astral – believing the illusions – can inhibit your stability, as well as your ascension. LOCK your heartstream on that pure Source-point. The physics of it – the higher vibrational shield it provides – will act as a protective energetic which keeps you centered and lucid during this passage.

Gateway of the Heart Center

November 22, 2013

The Light Wave of the November 23rd Aion alignment (a merkaba forms around the Sun) is already pouring in as I write this. The gateway of November 23 – 29 is upon us and I AM excited for this passage as these dates have presented to me for a while.

We have intense photonic-magnetic light hitting our beloved star, the Sun, which contains transformative rays for those on the Christed path, and the gift of awakening for others. Many wayshowers and light servers have been in deep release of 3D/4D systems, programs, and structures for weeks. Some have released soul and family monad structures and wounds; consciously taking one for the team. This work is necessary if you have dischord in your lineage; it can tether you to collective belief systems. You'll feel the release in the physical (pain, aches, illness) as it detaches. Since the physical is trying to keep up with the photonic demands for freedom and harmony, it is best to do this work now.

Releasing has been purposeful and the light will continue to push the envelope for initiates. As you consciously and willfully surrender to the changes within, the external world will begin to look very different. As you lift your own veils – the barriers between you and your true Self – there is clarity and a deep sense of wisdom. Hold your heart and breathe yourself back to that Source Point in the Heart Center as often as needed.

Keep focused on sending light through the heart center; it is becoming a generator of pure Christed light. Let the heart center do the work without the mind attempting to control it. This is presenting right now – the heart center is receiving the signal from this new light to morph into its Solar Christed state. You feel the physical shifts in the chest area – poking, moving, pinching, fluttering, burning – however the main focus is the light, the new dawn, the rising Sun, the transfiguration of the physical from the heart outward.

Keep your heartstream locked on the flow of this new light. Let it bathe you in Christ consciousness, and drop whatever does not match that vibration. Hold your intention to be the purest conduit of this new light and the I AM presence/Christ consciousness, then align everything you do, say, think and feel to that intention.

Unity consciousness demands internal stability. An unwavering dedication to the higher light must be maintained, and pure service will always be ignited through the heart, not the mind. As these waves of light purify and divinize everything in their path, only the true Self in resonance with the new light shall remain. It becomes more difficult to deny the Higher Self as the Shift unfolds, however if your intention is to embody the I AM and Christed Self then you must align with that frequency from moment to moment.

Surrendering to this step of Mastery means a great deal of light will be penetrating the cellular structure. It changes the body. This evolutionary jump time from one form to another means your body needs your care, focus and dedication to its highest interests. For those of us experiencing the (dramatic) vertigo of the last week or so, it should be clear that the magnetic balancing act of Gaia, Sun and Heart Center will be very physical at times. Even when the waves are literally pushing us to the ground (or upgrading our up/down right/left equilibrium systems into a less dualistic, more multidimensional magnetic balance), find stability in the Source point, right in the Heart. It may feel like a stormy boat ride (dizziness, nausea) as we shift, restabilize, shift, restabilize.

I AM guided to fast, meditate, receive and amplify the light available during this passage. Since we are so connected to the Sun, we may feel the effects of ISON as it loops around the Sun on November 27-29. I invite gatekeepers and those in service to the light who are feeling the SUNrise to send out this photonicmagnetic light from the Heart through the collective for harmony, balance, love and stability during this passage. Many blessings for a beautiful gateway experience!

Early 2014: Shift of Collective Reality

December 6, 2013

Beloved Light Tribe, the moment of revelation has presented. Gaia is taking off the mask to reveal her 4D shift in early 2014. Awakened or not, here she comes. At long last, mass awakening is about to begin.

The photonic light waves penetrating the planet will continue to increase in intensity. By the end of December, the Ascending to 5D tribe will experience deep shifts in consciousness, with major amplifications from January through March equinox. These are unique to your level of light and willingness to engage with the unknown.

The unawakened collective will (finally) see unusual changes – and start questioning their reality. I sense most will be distracted by Earth changes or personal phenomena before they realize Unity is the goal of this evolutionary passage, however great waves of awakening are expected in early 2014.

Mass Awakening to Light

Photonic evolution targets our perception, dissolving the self-imposed veils. At this juncture, Unity is best served by collective experience. It is up to the Ascending collective to demonstrate that the Shift is about Love, Compassion and Oneness.

Wayshowers, we must focus on Love. Heightened emotional states triggered in the collective will require balance on our part. Hold and radiate LOVE to all life on this planet. Be gentle, kind and patient. Be a pure conduit of Source Light Intelligence; generate a flow of Light from the God spark within. Keep the Heart center open and flowing through the internal Source-Point as the external aligns with the highest interests of all concerned.

Magnetic Harmony

Magnetic balancing is busy during this passage. Sensitives may feel it in the body as vertigo, dizziness or nausea. Gaia experiences shifts in her plates and grid systems, and the elementals respond with weather intended to balance. Multiple magnetic balancing points were created by many light teams throughout 2012-2013. They provide options for erratic electro-magnetic flows; multiple points for magnetic surges to gravitate to, rather than a limited choice of North and South poles. The sacred sites, vortexes, and portals on the surface of the planet will assist in directing the new light to these new magnetic balancing points. Some sites are already serving as balancing points themselves.

The intention with this system – and many other systems which were implemented for this passage – is to provide as smooth a journey as possible for Gaia, HUmanity and the Kingdoms. While it would be beautiful to sail through the photon belt without Earth changes altogether, shifts must occur. They may appear dramatic to those unaware of these compassionate efforts.

Weep with Joy, Dear Light Tribe

As powerful as the last three months have been for the Ascension tribe, we are in for a whole lot more. Accelerations of this magnitude take conscious choice from moment to moment. Beyond being present, be Presence. The grace and power of your true self is being revealed; integrate it as it presents for you. True integration means a permanent change.

Denial of the truth is no longer tolerated on both personal and planetary levels. Don't let your lower levels torture you if they cling to what was; surrender to who you truly are as it is revealed. Expansion of consciousness can get overwhelming as these new levels of light turn up the volume. Breathe, know all is well, find the love (not the drama) in these upgrades.

One-way Departure

The Ascending tribe is experiencing deep revelations, dimensional bleed-through phenomena, profound stillness and sensations of departure. Remember this is a permanent departure from the past. The Collective intuition senses that the 3D platform is no longer there, which triggers stability issues. Keep the personal and collective psychological affects in balance by breathing in acceptance of change, staying open to the flow of the Shift and focusing on heart intelligence. This light can be overwhelming; simplify wherever you can.

The December – March Shift will be brilliant and challenging. Remain calm and centered in your Heart-stream. Anchor love, peace and compassion with every conversation, every action, every thought. Let us unite as shining examples of what Ascension is all about. Guide everyone around you to the Light by demonstrating how beautiful it is to embody the highest Love.
